Saugerties Increases Budget, Lowers Rate

Despite an increase of $5,843.75 in the Saugerties Central School 1957-58 budget now totaling $1,048,815.75, the basic school tax rate will show a decrease of about $2, according to the completed budget issued from the office of Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties Schools.

The new basic school tax rate will be $56.30 per $1,000 assessed valuation compared with $58.43 announced at the time the proposed budget was approved by the taxpayers July 9.

Interest Rate Higher

The increase in the budget became apparent when the interest rate on bonds for the expansion program of the school system was announced at 4.25 per cent compared with the original rate of 3.7 per cent estimated at the time the proposed budget was approved by the taxpayers.

Increased valuations undoubtedly due to the reassessment program of the village and new homes added to the tax lists, increased the total assessed valuation of the central district from $7,734,780 at the time the proposed budget was approved to $8,006,885 on which the current rate is based.

Properties in all former common school districts centralized under Saugerties and excluding District No. 10 comprising the Saugerties village and District No. 9, Glasco, will use the basic rate of $56.30.

Village Rate $59

District No. 10 in the village of Saugerties due to bonds and interest on previous debts will have a $59 rate.

The $62.63 school tax rate for District No. 9, Glasco will include $6.33 added to the basic rate for bonds and interest on previous debts.

The tax rate for properties in the central district located in the Town of Ulster will be $51.02 and in the Town of Woodstock $71.34. The assesed valuation of Town of Ulster properties in the school district is $440,814 and Town of Woodstock properties in the district total $88,254.

Last year's village tax rate was $47.45 and the 1956 rate in Glasco was $50.58. In the other areas in the Town of Saugerties last year's rate was $43.55.

Historical Society Is Insistent

Supports Grange On Keeping Site

Support of the Hurley Grange in its efforts to persuade the Board of Supervisors to repair and maintain the Perrine Bridge was pledged at a meeting yesterday of the executive committee of the Ulster County Historical Society.

A resolution protesting the destruction of the old covered span at Rifton was adopted at a meeting of the Grange two weeks ago.

A public hearing on the question of the removal of the bridge as a flood control preventive measure was held a few days after, at which time strong pleas to save the span, either in its present location or at another site as a historic shrine were presented.

Resolution Adopted

The Historical Society adopted the following resolution at yesterday's meeting:

"That the Ulster County Historical Society offers fullest cooperation to the Hurley Grange to persuade the Board of Supervisors to repair and maintain the Perrine Bridge in its present location."

It was the feeling of certain others that the bridge should be removed as a flood measure.

Offers Land for Shrine ...

Two propositions to relocate the bridge were presented—one by Henry Mollenhauer of Rosendale, and another by A. J. Harder of Hurley.

Mollenhauer said the bridge should be preserved as a historic shrine and offered to donate five acres of land gratis between Route 32 and the Thruway in the Town of Rosendale on which the bridge might be placed.

The site would have a 140-foot frontage on Route 32 just north of the Wallkill River bridge.

Harder suggested that the bridge be removed to a site in

Arms Parley Seen Ending In Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials now expect the present series of London disarmament talks to recess in about two weeks without agreement for ending the east-west arms race.

President Eisenhower's new concession to Russia on the issue of suspending nuclear test explosions is regarded here as improving the western positions for negotiating and propaganda. But it does not appear to have affected materially the basic deadlock between Russia and the western powers.

Up to Soviet

A White House statement yesterday announced western readiness to accept conditionally a two-year —instead of a 10 months — suspension of tests. This statement implied that only concessions by the Soviet union toward western proposals could now substantially brighten the prospects for eventually getting an arms reduction and control treaty.

Whether the Soviet government may make some important gesture of its own in the immediate future is unknown here. But there have been no indications of it.

Zorin's Demand

On the contrary, Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin told American, British, French and Canadian representatives in yesterday's meeting at London that if they intend seriously to end nuclear tests they must renounce the link between that issue and the western demand for an agreement to stop production of atomic explosives for military purposes.

Zorin, according to a report to the State Department, welcomed the offer for a two-year test suspension when it was formally presented by U. S. negotiator Harold Stassen with Eisenhower's personal authorization. But news dispatches from London quoted Zorin as saying the new western proposal contains too many unacceptable conditions. Zorin did, however, promise to give the proposal careful study.

Bribery Trial Charge Bared

Hoffa Denies He Paid Louis Appearance Fee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said today he has a report that former heavyweight champion Joe Louis was paid $2,500 to sit at Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa's recent bribery trial for two hours.

Hoffa was acquitted of the charge by a jury made up of eight Negroes and four white persons. Members of the jury said in later interviews that the racial issue had not entered into their decision.

Told About Report

McClellan told Hoffa about the report as the Midwest Teamsters boss started a third day of quizzing by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee about his alleged links with New York racketeers. The Arkansas senator heads the committee.

Hoffa replied: "If he was, he wasn't paid by Hoffa."

McClellan asked Hoffa to check to see whether any Teamsters funds were used to pay Louis an appearance fee.

It was Hoffa's third day in the witness chair, and the committee promised to play more wiretapped telephone talks of purported conversations with New York racketeers.

Contends Dio Alliance

The committee contends that Hoffa, now the odds on choice to succeed Dave Beck as president of the giant Teamsters Union, formed an alliance several years ago with Johnny Dio to enhance Hoffa's power in the New York area.

Dio, a convicted extortionist, is now in jail awaiting sentence. He has long had a reputation as a racketeer.

Already in evidence is one recorded phone talk between Hoffa and Dio, back in February 1953, in which they called each other "Jim" and "Jack." The recording was made by New York police under court order.

Dio, then an official of another union, complained over the phone to Hoffa that the Teamsters were horning in on Dio's efforts to organize New York City taxi drivers. Hoffa promised to take it up with Beck.

Home Sites Included In Project

Restaurant, Pool Part of Program

Plans for a 100-room motel on a 12-acre, elevated tract just west of the city, and for development of 40 acres in an adjacent area for home sites, were announced yesterday by Arnold S. Rymkevitch, operator of the Boiceville Construction Co.

Charles S. Michele, owner and operator of a 100-room motel in the Poughkeepsie area, this week acquired the land for the motel. A restaurant and swimming pool are also to be built in the motel area.

25 Houses in Plan

The tract for home sites will be developed for the building of 25 houses, each with an acre of land. This will be a project personally developed by Mr. Rymkevitch, who has named the site, Hidden Acres.

Land for both projects is on a foothill rise along Route 28, immediately west of the city, and the area commands a sweeping view of terrain toward and beyond the city, southward to the Shawangunks, and westward to the Catskills.

To Start Soon

Michele said today that Architect Milton Chacen, of Poughkeepsie, has been instructed to prepare plans for the motel project, and work will be started as soon as possible. He is hopeful, he said, of opening the motel on next Memorial Day.

The high land is reached by a newly built, wide road, which swings off Route 28 opposite the Sunset Drive-in Theatre. Other roads in the development areas are in various stages of construction.

All land for both the motel and home-site developments is in secluded wooded areas, and each tract extends to the brink of the hill with long frontage areas for a view of the flatlands below and the mountain ranges beyond.

Road Off Route 28

The approach road to the development sites is approximately a half mile from the Route 28-thruway interchange and frontage areas of the developments will be visible from lowland highways.

Transfer of title to the land to be used for the motel development, by Rymkevitch to Michele was completed Tuesday. Attorney Lloyd R. LeFever represented Mr. Rymkevitch, and Mr. Michele was represented by Attorney Hugh R. Elwyn.

Appointments Provisional

Oppenheimer, Mayes Take Over BPW Posts

Max J. Oppenheimer, of 30 Mountain View Avenue, was named acting public works superintendent by the Board of Public Works to succeed Ernest A. Steuding, who recently resigned to accept a similar position in Newburgh.

Emerson L. Mayes, of 117 Clinton Avenue, a labor foreman in the department, was named to succeed Oppenheimer as assistant public works superintendent.

Both appointments are effective Sept. 1, and are provisional pending civil service tests.

Regret Steuding Leaving

The board issued a statement accepting the resignation of Steuding "with sincere regret," and noted:

"Mr. Steuding's service to this city in his capacity as superintendent of public works is evidenced on all sides. The street program, in particular, under his direction, was executed in a manner that reflects a great deal of credit, not only to himself, but to the city generally.

"Under his supervision and direction, Kingston has earned the reputation of better and cleaner streets, excellent snow removal, good sewer maintenance, and a myriad of other public services that are the envy of other communities of the same size, or even larger.

Wish Him Well

"We, the members of the Board of Public Works, wish him well in his new position."

It was signed by Mayor Frederick H. Stang, as the board's president, and commissioners David Schechter, Raymond Whitbeck, Charles O. Davis and Kenneth Hyatt.

Ennis Faces More Serious Charge in Fatal Car Mishap

The driver of a car which struck and killed two teen-age New York City youths late Saturday night on Route 209 three miles south of Ellenville, has been arrested on a charge of criminal negligence.

Chester Roy Ennis, 46, of Ulster Heights, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson last night, requested an examination which was set for 8 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 29 and was committed to the Ulster County Jail in lieu of $1,000 cash bail.

Probe Leads to Change

Ennis was arrested Saturday by Ellenville state police on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The more serious charge was lodged against him following an investigation by state police and Coroner Charles Rosenstock.

Killed instantly was Orest Ptasiuk, 17, a student at Cardinal Hayes High School, New York City.

Eugene Shuhan, 15, died Sunday morning at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville.

Identified by Brother

Ennis was proceeding north on Route 209 when his car allegedly struck the two youths with the right front section. The two boys, at first unidentified, were reportedly either walking or standing on the east side of the road.

Sunday afternoon Cpl. N. G. Lecakes happened to see a group of eight cyclists passing the barracks and "on a hunch" stopped them to ask if they would look at the two youths in an attempt to identify them. By remarkable coincidence, one of the boys was George Shuhan, brother of the youth who had died that morning.

Invalidating School Vote Seen as Formidable Task

The group opposed to annexation of Woodstock Common School District No. 2 to Onteora Central School District "faces a formidable task" in seeking the invalidation of the Tuesday vote, a spokesman for the pro-Onteora group told The Freeman today.

The vote was 415 in favor of annexation and 359 opposed.

Fifty-six of the votes have been challenged, however, by the Woodstock Committee for Consolidation.

A spokesman for the pro-Kingston committee said yesterday in The Freeman that the referendum would be appealed.

The Freeman has received a statement from the committee of 500 for Centralization with Onteora denying claims of the consolidation group that 56 voters were not qualified.

The statement also charged "counsel" for the pro-Kingston group with raising a technical objection on another legal point —a difference in date between the proposition submitted for referendum and the ballot itself. The Committee of 500 states that "counsel" himself suggested inclusion of the later date as it appeared in the proposition.

The Woodstock Committee for Consolidation said yesterday that the order of the State Education commisioner directing the referendum stated that annexation would not be approved until June 30, 1958 whereas the ballots used Tuesday stated that the effective date should be June 30, 1957.

The statement of the pro-Onteora group follows in full:

"A spokesman for the oppo-

Denies Pro-Soviet Turn

Syrian Official Says Nation Stays Neutral

DAMASCS, Syria (AP) — A Syrian foreign ministry official said today Syria is not swerving from its policy of positive neutralism and nonalignment with any bloc.

Salah Tarazi, secretary general of the foreign ministry, rejected at his news conference yesterday that Syria is taking a pro-Soviet turn.

Denies Censorship

At a special news conference today, Tarazi also denied Eisenhower's charge that there is censorship in Syria. Press censorship was halted in Damascus last April, he said, and in the rest of Syria a month ago.

He said statement on Syria made by resident Eisenhower yesterday were not true.

Tarazi also charged that Eisenhower's call for all the free world to watch the Syrian situation was interference in Syria's internal affairs.

Blames 'Plot'

American concern over Syria, he said, stemmed primarily from charges here of an American plot to overthrow the Syrian regime rather than from the events which followed.

The President said the charges were a smokescreen behind which persons with leftist leanings were trying to strengthen their power in Syria.

Earlier, a Syrian spokesman said the resident appeared to be "misinformed" about Syria.

The spokesman met with reporters yesterday to discuss what he called Eisenhower's anti-Syrian news conference."

He asserted that Eisenhower's

Kingston Trust Proposes Increase In Capital Stocks

A proposal has been made by the board of directors to increase the amount of authorized capital stock of the Kingston Trust Company and also to change the number of shares and par value.

Approval of stockholders of record August 16, this year, will be sought at a special meeting Wednesday, Sept. 4, at 12 noon in the banking house, 27 Main Street, according to letters mailed to them Wednesday.

Proposed Plan

If the recommendation is approved there would be declared a 100 per cent stock dividend out of the undivided profits account to the holders of record on the date named.

The dividend would be distributable on September 20, this year, on a basis of five $20 par value shares for each $100 par value share.

Stockholders, the letter said, would also have the right to purchase one new $20 par value share for each $100 par value share held August 16. The price of the share to be sold would be $60, and the $40 permium would be added to the surplus account. Deadline for buying the additional shares is November 1, 1957.

Shares Explained

The notices sent out said that as of June 29 this year, the Trust Company had capital funds of $2,035,000 with 2,500 shares of $100 par value stock outstanding, making the book value $814 per share.

After changing the par value

Phone Dial Service Is To Start October 6th

Dial telephone service is scheduled to start for all telephones in Kingston and Saugerties on Sunday, Oct. 6, at 3:01 a. m.

This was revealed today by Robert J. Dalton, local manager for the New York Telephone Company. He also reviewed four other changes that will take place at the same time.

1. Kingston—The local calling area for Kingston telephones will be enlarged to include Saugerties, Woodstock, Shokan, High Falls, Rosendale and Esopus. Individual and two-party line customers in Kingston will begin using direct distance dialing which enables them to dial their own calls to abouf 25 million telephones throughout the United States.

2. Saugerties—Kingston will be added to the local calling area.

3. Woodstock, Shokan, High Falls, Rosendale, Esopus—Kingston will become part of the local calling areas of these communities. There will also be changes in the method of dialing for some customers in this area.

4. All telephones in these seven communities as well as those in Phoenicia will change to the new two-letter five numberal telephone numbers.

Dalton said the telephone company is publishing a new telephone directory containing all tne new telephone numbers. It will be delivered shortly before dial service starts.

Complete dialing instructions will be sent to all customers affected during the week preceding October 6. Dalton also pointed out that the new telephone directory will have dialing instructions included in the information pages.

Kingston is the second upstate community to enjoy direct distance dialing. The United States has already been divided into over 100 numbering plan areas, each with its own three-digit code. By dialing the proper code followed by the telephone number, individual and two-party line customers can dial direct to about 25 million telephones throughout the nation with almost the same ease as they dial local calls.

Dalton demonstrated his point with an example of a call to Boston which is located in the 617 numbering plan area. To call a number such as SHerwin 3-9991, he declared, one would merely dial 617 SH 3 9991.

The new central office names which will replace the present

Clearance Expected On Newsmen for China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower adminisration was reported ready today to announce soon that about 20 American newsmen will be permitted to go to Red China on a six-month trial basis.

The announcement, expected in the next day or so, would end an eight-year blackout on eyewitness news stories written by American reporters operating on the China mainland — provided the Communists still are willing to let them in.

Secretary of State Dulles has worked ou a plan after polling newspaper, radio and television executives. This survey produced a list of news agencies which want to station correspondents permanently in Red China. Administration officials called it helpful.

It was understood the 12 agencies which previously had men on the China mainland told Dulles they want to send representatives back again.

These agencies included the Associated Press, United Press, International News Service, Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co., American Broadcasting Co. (Formerly NBC Blue), New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Chicago Tribune, Chicago Daily News, Christian Science Monitor and Time Magazine.

Eight or so others, not named, requested permission to station reporters in China permanently.

There was another list. It included news organizations interested in temporary correspondents. But Dulles was understood to have decided such a "one shot" expedition would have to wait until he saw how the others fared during the six-month trial.

If all went well, the 20 or so permanent correspondents could stay on, and other newsmen could be permitted to make visis.

The administration has been under heavy pressure to let American reporters go to Red China. This would mean waiving regulations which ban use of American passports for travel to the China mainland. There also is a ban on travel by Americans to North Korea, North Vietnam and Bulgaria — all Communist-held areas with which the United States has no diplomatic relations.

Hard Work, Quick Wit Help to Reach 93 Years

By DICK McCARTHY

An innate Irish sense of humor, years of hard work and a life of moderation find Michael J. Hart, 93, of 115 Spring Street, with a sparkling approach to the future and nostalgic memories of the past.

Hart, who makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Dittus, celebrated his 93rd birthday Monday.

He has turned the pages of the past with a sparkle because his formula for 93 years of life always has been, "Hard work won't hurt anybody."

Born in Ireland in 1864, he came to this country as a young boy and has lived in this city since.

Mrs. Hart died in 1905. Besides Mrs. Dittus, there are two other children, a son, Thomas of Richfield, N. J., and a daughter, Mrs. A. J. Brehm of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Like many of the early Irish settlers in this area, boating held a lure of Mr. Hart and for many years he served as captain of a barge operated by the Staples Brick Co.

Upon retirement from boating, he was employed by the City of Kingston as a custodian in the Municipal Building, West O'Reilly Street.

Mr. Hart retired to enjoy a life of leisure about 15 years ago. The leisure time is spent in taking walks and reading. "He loves to read." Mrs. Dittus explained.

His daughter describes Mr. Hart as "in perfect health," attributable, no doubt, to the fact "that he has always lived a moderate life."

"He is still sprightly and retains a keen Irish wit," Mrs. Dittus said.

Devout attention to religion has been another hallmark of Mr. Hart's 93 years. A member of St. Mary's Church and a charter member of its Holy Name Society, Mr. Hart attends Mass every Sunday.

In the accelerated tempo of today's living, Mr. Hart, at 93, is evidence that more candles light your birthday cake when you work zealously, lead a good life, and provide humor to those in your environment.

Plans Start Here Against Any Outbreak of Asia Flu

Groundwork is being laid locally for whatever action might be necessary in the event of an outbreak of Asiatic flu, it was noted today in a joint statement by Mayor Frederick H. Stang, and Charles Relyea, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

The two took note of recent statements by state and federal health officials, and said they had contacted the county health department for groundwork action.

"Dr. Hargrave, Commissioner of Health of Ulster County, informs us that he is attending a meeting called by Dr. Hilleboe, State Commissioner of Health, on August 29th, at which time plans will be announced for the protection of the people of the state.

"As the program develops the people of this county and city will be advised via press releases and radio. The county of Ulster and the city of Kingston will support wholeheartedly any recommendations made by the Ulster County Health Department for the protection of the people in our communities.

"Doctor Hargrave further informs us that at this time there are no known cases of Asiatic flu in Ulster county."

Jeep Mishap Fatal To One Boy, Two Others Injured

A Greene County boy was fatally injured and two others suffered minor injuries when the jeep in which they were riding on a dirt road about two miles west of Oak Hill struck deep ruts and overturned Wednesday afternoon.

Roy H. Dedek, 14, of Oak Hill, was pronounced dead on arrival at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill.

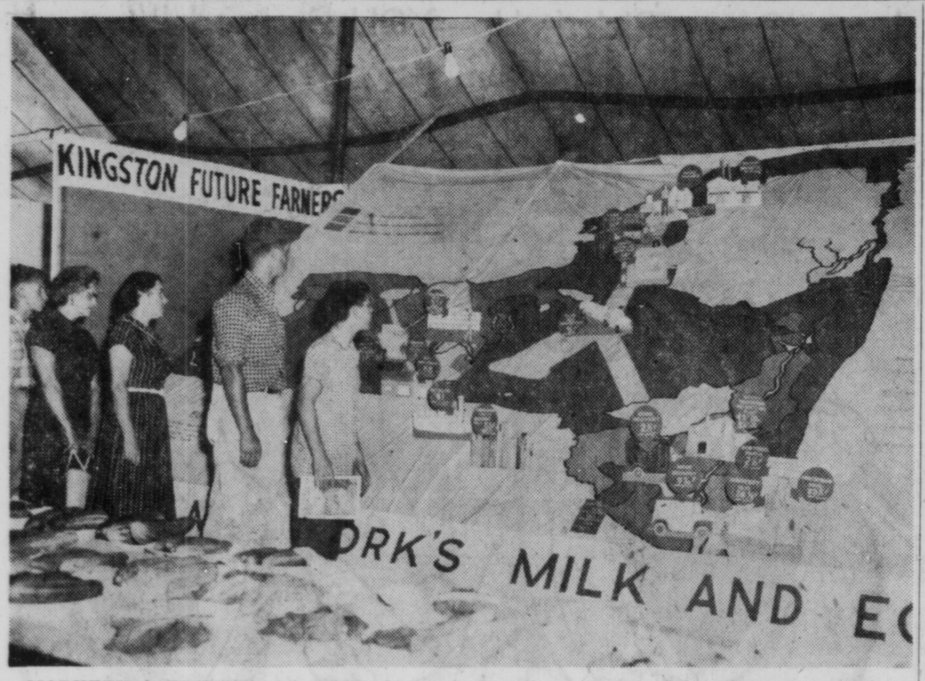

Injured were Andrew Marroni, 14, town of Durham, and Raymond Sunday, 14, Astoria, L. I.

Both were treated for lacerations and bruises, it was reported by Catskill state police.

Troopers reported that the boys were on their way to a swimming hole about a mile from the Dedek home. They said Dedek was pinned under the vehicle.

Coroner Curtis R. Lacey withheld verdict pending further investigation.

Democrats Cool To GOP Bid on Rights Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) —Democratic congressional leaders were reported cool today to a new Republican proposal for breaking the deadlock over civil rights.

At the sane time, Republican leaders were said to be in the mood to revise their proposal somewhat in an effort to win Democratic support for it.

There appeared considerable doubt that the two sides would get together, at least for the present, on some formula to get the stalled bill moving toward final passage.

The GOP proposal would give federal judges limited powers to punish for criminal contempt in voting rights cases, without a jury trial.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts unveiled the Republican plan yesterday afternoon after President Eisenhower had told newsmen it was coming. Eisenhower endorsed it.

After a breakfast conference with the President today, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California declined to predict whether the GOP compromise would be acceptable in the Senate.

"Until we find out whether it is acceptable in the House there is not much point in discussing it in the Senate," Knowland said.

Up to Judges' Discretion

The GOP proposal would give judges sole discretion to decide whether there should be a jury trial in voting rights cases in which a person is accused of criminal contempt for violating a court injunction.

If a judge tried the case without a jury, he could impose a penalty no stronger than 90 days in jail and a $300 fine. In the event he decided there should be a jury trial the defendant—if convicted—might be imprisoned for as long as six months and fined up to $1,000.

The Democratic leaders, after studying this proposal, were understood to object to it, in part because they feel it would involve pre-judgment by a judge of a possible penalty.

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would guarantee jury trials to defendants in criminal contempt cases. This would apply not only to voting rights cases but to cases arising under a wide range of laws. Conviction for criminal contempt would carry a possible penalty of up to six months in jail and up to $1,000 fine.

The Senate wrote in the jury trial amendment after limiting the effect of the bill's injunction provisions to voting rights cases.

After the Senate passed its bill Aug. 7, the measure went back to the House where it now is lodged in the Rules Committee.

October 17 Date Of Farm Bureau Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ulster County Farm Bureau will be held Thursday evening, Oct. 17, it was announced following a meeting of the group last night at the municipal building in New Paltz.

Reporting the decision on the date of the meeting was a committee composed of Roy Dennistion, chairman; Richard Borcherding, William Walker, Mrs. Walter Herring and Robert Coy.

The annual meeting will be held at the New Hurley Church Hall. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

May Publish News Letter

The women's committee is compiling a card index of members and will develop a telephone relay system, it was reported.

The committee is also investigating the feasibility of publishing a news letter three or four times a year to keep the membership informed on the local level.

Several "kitchen konferences" will be held in the early part of September.

The next meeting of the bureau will be on the second Wednesday in September at the municipal building, New Paltz.

Philip Davis, president of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, presided last night.

Measure Easing Immigration Law Passed by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to ease present immigration restrictions somewhat was passed by the Senate last night. It apparently is assured of House passage before Congress adjourns.

While some senators called the measure unsatisfactory and inadequate, they said they were convinced any effort to broaden it would only doom the plan in the House.

They pledged, however, to try next year to make more substantial changes in the McCarran-Walter Act, the nation's basic immigration law which was passed in 1952.

No Quota Changes

The bill contains none of the major administration recommendations made last January. It would not change the quota system or other basic immigration provisoins.

Only brief debate preceded passage of the bill by a 65-4 roll call vote. The opposing votes were cast by Sens. Ellender (D-La), Olin Johnston (D-SC), Russell (D-Ga) and Thurmond (D-SC).

The Senate bill, like a similar bill approved last week by the House Judiciary Committee, is designed primarily to provide relief in individual hardship cases and to make it easier to reunite families.

Would Revive Visas

It also would revive 18,656 nonquota immigration visas that had gone unused when the 1953 Refugee Relief Act expired last Dec. 31.

About 14,000 of these visas would be available for refugees or escapees from Communist nations anywhere in the world or from political, racial or religious persecution in the Middle East.

The other 4,600 would be for the use of groups to which they were originally assigned by the Refugee Relief Act, mostly persons of German origin expelled from behind the Iron Curtain.

The bill also would permit an unlimited number of orphans, up to 14 years of age, to enter this country on a non-quota basis prior to June 30, 1959, if adopted by U. S. citizens.

Another section would permit foreign visitors to enter the country without being fingerprinted.

Living Costs Up For 11th Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living rose ½ of 1 per cent during July, the government reported today. It was the 11th consecutive monthly advance.

Food prices rose by 1 per cent, the Labor Department said, and carried the consumer price index to a new record at 120.8 per cent of the 1947-49 level.

A department spokesman said about 1,300,000 workers will get wage increases of 1 to 6 cents, with the bulk of them getting a 3 cent an hour raise. These are workers whose pay contracts have an escalator clause tied to the index.

Food prices went seven tenths of 1 per cent above the previous record peak of August, 1952, and 2.3 per cent above the level of a year ago.

Food makes up about 30 per cent of the government's consumer price index. For all other items, the government noted a decline of about one-fifth of 1 per cent.

One of every eight bushels of potatoes today goes into the making of potato chips.

MILITARY LUXURY

The House appropriations committee has turned a spotlight on some rather disturbing examples of unnecessary spending by the armed services. It has discovered such expensive refinements as ceramic tile wainscots on the concrete block walls of an enlisted men's barracks, maple dance floors, fireplaces and private baths, the stuccoing of a brick barracks so that it would harmonize with other buildings.

Many taxpayers will share the concern of committee members at what they call a "creeping tendency" to make military installations fancier, if not positively luxurious. Such concern is justified, even though air conditioning and various such improvements might help to boost service morale.

Many years have passed since the time when the men in our armed services were expected to live under conditions of austerity. Those immediately responsible for the nation's defense have long enjoyed living conditions better than those of almost any other armed force in the world. That's the way Americans want it, up to a reasonable point. The question is, when has that point been reached?

The House committee believes that we may be nearing that point now. It finds wasteful extravagance in some recent building and furnishing projects undertaken by the services. The warning should be heeded. It is tremendously expensive, at best, to maintain the armed forces necessary for the nation's defense. Wealthy as we are, there is a limit to how much we can spend to pile luxury on top of reasonable comfort in the military service.

ECONOMIC DANGERS

The continuous rise in the cost of living index cannot be taken lightly. Rising prices and rising costs of production, unless checked, can force cutbacks and restriction of production, with another consequent rise in prices. Production and consumption can get seriously out of line. This process is part of the central logic or pattern which leads to depression.

Increased productive capacity, as a consequence of automation as well as other causes, has begun to threaten jobs in manufacturing. There is not likely to be any increase in the number of jobs open in manufacturing plants, and there are signs of stabilization and decline.

We can ignore signs of this character only if we wish to court potential disaster. The question here is not optimism versus pessimism. It is, rather, a question of keeping in good running order an economic mechanism which, because of its complexity and inter-relatedness, is highly delicate. Our own future and that of the free world is at stake. Now is the time for serious and dispassionate thought.

We cannot assert that we are beyond all dangers of another depression. All of the signs of our present economic situation do not point clearly to a continuing onward and upward course. Clarity of thought and sensible effort, not alarm, are now called for. We dare not fall asleep at the American economic switch in the year 1957.

HINTS OF AUTUMN

In the midst of summer there are intimations of summer's end and the long winter to come. The signs are not many, as yet, but to the observant eye they speak a prophecy as unmistakable as the first spitting snow from the north.

Some fruits have come to harvest, and others are reaching that time of consummation. It is a sign that the cycle of birth, growth, fruition and dormancy is once again nearing its end. Now and then a leaf falls and dries and is blown scrabbling along the walk, making a sound that autumn will multiply a millionfold. And when the first locust plays his loud siren in a backyard tree, we have certain knowledge that fall is near at hand.

These can be taken as melancholy reminders, but they need not be so. For though summer is a wonderful time, despite its oppressive heat, fall and winter have virtues of their own. The wise man enjoys each season as it comes, and anticipates the pleasures of the next.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

"MOONLIGHTING"

"Moonlighting" means that a fellow, who by union rules or the law or whatever other compulsion works only 40 hours a week or less, gets himself a second job and makes a little more money.

Personally, I think that is a wonderful idea. Surely, a grown man can put in more than 40 hours a week to benefit himself and his family and most successful men do. A fellow is alive 168 hours every week and what most of them do with the surplus 128 hours is hard to understand. Maybe they just sit around and gab with the missus until she is ready to drop dead from so much talk. Maybe that is one reason why the divorce rate is so enormous in this country.

The men who succeed in life do not limit themselves to 40 hours a week. No lawyer could get to the first rung of the ladder on 40 hours a week. He could not limit his reading of cases to that. No doctor can make a career on 40 hours a week; most of those whom I know work pretty much around the clock and are lucky if they can grab a six or seven hour sleep in a night. Certainly at the start of a medical career, work is constant and later on doctors have the deadly problem of keeping up with the new developments, a reading task that is almost superhuman. Those who make good, do it.

Management certainly cannot limit itself to a 40 hour week. The really top men in management stick to the job constantly; otherwise the company goes to pot and in due course is taken over and amalgamated because the time-clock cannot be used by management. The fellow who gets himself a white collar job and then says, "Let George do it," sooner or later finds that George does it and moves up.

Of course, there are exceptions like the fellow who marries the boss' daughter and becomes an ornament, but I have known many a young fellow who married the boss' daughter, took hold of the situation and did as good a job as the old man, if not better. Maybe the father planned it that way.

"Moonlighting" is O.K. with me because it shows initiative, conscientiousness, ardor and family responsibility. I have heard the argument that two jobs sap a man's strength. That depends upon how much strength he has.

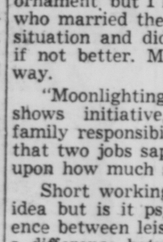

Short working hours may be socially a sound idea but is it psychologically? There is a difference between leisure and idleness, just as there is a difference between nobility and sanctimoniousness. For example, the other day, I read of a lot of Senators who got up on the floor of the Senate to make speeches praising Joe McCarthy to the skies and pretending that they were sorry that he is dead. Many of them were the bully-boys who broke his heart and sent him to an early grave. I did not read a single speech asking God's forgiveness for the bearing of false witness to achieve political advantage. That is an example of the difference between morality and hypocrisy.

So the problem of the 40 hour week, which may soon be a 30 hour week, needs to be analyzed from the standpoint of what idleness does to the individual. If it is true that there are several million "moonlighters" in the United States, it goes to show that there are several million Americans who cannot be beaten down by the doctrine that a fellow must do nothing for himself, but must sail along with the least effort, depending upon benevolent politicians to pass laws giving him a minimum subsistence from the cradle to the grave.

That arguement could be used in the 1930's when Americans didn't know any better. Today, as we are approaching the 1960's, even the kids know that a dollar in one's pocket is surer than a promise from the bureaucracy and that when there is a guaranteed minimum, that is all you get.

The ambitious young man who "moonlights" incidentally must make it tough for the fellow who tells his wife that it is against the law to work at a machine in the morning and sell salami as a relief man. The other fellow's girl has the cash to buy what she thinks she needs.

Cause of Eczema Often Difficult to Pin Down

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent has asked for another discussion of eczema, particularly "nummular" eczema.

The latter merely means that patches of eczema on the skin are shaped like a coin. The cause may be the same as any other variety of eczema.

Eczema is defined as an inflammatory disease of the skin with blister formation and the development of scales and crusts. However, its appearance varies widely. It may or may not be accompanied by itching and burning.

Among skin specialists there is some tendency to abandon this old name and to use the name dermatitis venenata.

Thus, eczema in this sense is strictly the result of an outside irritation and can include such conditions as are caused by poison ivy or poison oak.

BECAUSE the nature of the irritant varies so much, and the skin differs greatly in its resistance to such irritants, the amount of skin difficulty and the appearance of the skin show great differences from one person to another.

However, when first starting, the skin usually appears simply red. If the irritation has been severe, the skin may show blisters or even small pus pockets. After a while the redness and other signs of inflammation may give way to chronic symptoms, the original cause of which is often hard to trace.

Eczema shows up on those parts of the body which have rubbed against the irritating substance. For this reason the hands, face and legs are more common locations than parts of the skin which are protected by clothing.

Often the skin burns or itches even before it shows redness. It is natural to scratch a place which itches but scratching further injures the skin.

THE LIST of substances which can cause eczema is almost unlimited. It includes hair dyes, face powders, shampoos, tincture of iodine, weeds, the dye in clothing, and more rarely the ink in newspapers and match boxes. Almost all chemical substances used in industry have been at one time or another uncovered as a cause of eczema.

There are four objectives of treatment: to identify the substance which is causing the difficulty, to take steps to avoid further contact, to avoid putting things on the skin which might make the condition worse, and to use ointments and lotions to help relieve the inflammation and allow the skin to return to normal.

IDENTIFYING the cause is often extremely difficult.

Another problem in many cases of eczema is that the patient may have tried to treat himself or herself with some substance which resulted in additional irritation and which masks the true nature of the original irritant. Several skin specialists have told me that self-treatment too often complicates their job.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A counterattack has been launched here against recently revealed Communist Party efforts to infiltrate nationality groups in the U. S.

U. S. Communist leaders apparently decided at their last convention to try to move into our numerous, big nationality organizations. Their meeting revealed that the party was having trouble surviving and it was decided that these groups might be fruitful recruiting areas.

The first person to deny that nationality groups are vulnerable to Commie recruiting was colorful Judge Blair F. Gunther, judge of the State Superior Court of Pennsylvania. And as head of the new National Confederation of American Ethnic Groups, he is going to lead the fight against the Communist drive.

JUDGE GUNTHER is a genial, beefy individual with a sharp legal mind and vast experience in his own nationality group. He is chairman of the board of the Polish National Alliance. It is the largest Polish fraternal group in the U. S. with chapters in all 48 states and a membership well over 360,000.

During World War 2, Judge Gunther acted as liaison between U. S. Army Intelligence and U. S. Poles who could provide information and help in the fight against the Nazis. Most of the details of this work are still secret.

The NCAEG which Judge Gunther heads has other goals, but its effort to fight Commie infiltration of nationality societies is the one which interests him most. Its headquarters is in Washington.

"It's basically a question of alerting these organizations to the fact that the Commies would like to take them over," he explains. "I think that once we acquaint all members of the groups with the fact that they have become the target of the Reds and expose some of their methods of infiltration, we will have checked the big danger."

THE NCAEG after two years of organizational effort, now is composed of 52 nationality organizations which have a combined membership of more than 17 million. Of its general goals Judge Gunther says:

"The confederation is strictly non-partisan, having many Republicans, Democrats and Independents in our ranks. We are primarily interested in issues and the way these issues are handled, not in personalities or one's party affiliations.

"We aim at full and fair recognition in the higher courts, in Congress and on all policy-making bodies of the government. In the foreign policy field we will support the basic principles of liberation, self-determination and full sovereignty for all peoples and all nations."

THE OTHER OFFICERS of the organization reveal the wide base of its membership, vice presidents include Stanley Kotula, president of the Polish National Union of America; Rev. Fr. Armand Morisette, a member of French, French-Canadian and Belgian ethnic groups; Philip A. Hrobak, president of the Slovak League of America, and Savas G. Sapounakis, an official of the Greek society AHEPA.

Other officers include representatives from Lithuanian, Armenian, Italian, Czechoslovakian, German and Spanish nationality groups. Paul Deac who has been prominent in French and Romanian ethnic organizations is the executive vice president.

The organization is incorporated as a nonprofit civic and educational association in the District of Columbia. It has been supported financially so far by donations from member organizations.

Officials of the group in recent conference with Judge Gunther began making plans for setting up regional and local chapters. Preliminary plans have already been made for the publication of a national magazine by the group.

Racial Intermarriage Called Dilemma Far Into Future

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The news dispatches told the other day of an orderly demonstration by Ku Klux Klansman in front of a theatre at Jacksonville, Fla., where a movie entitled "Island in the Sun" was playing.

The inference was that this was a way of expressing objection to the showing of the film. But, unwittingly or not, the theme of the picture is the most effective argument from the Southern viewpoint that has yet been made against "integration" in the public schools.

For the movie emphasizes intermarriage of Negroes and whites and does it with a technique of plausibility that makes the whole production perhaps the boldest portrayal of color-mixing that has ever been put on the American stage on a national scale.

This correspondent, who saw the movie recently, was impressed by the skill of those who directed it. The action takes place in a British colony in the Caribbean. Though three couples of Negroes and whites are shown in dramatic situations of mutual attraction, not a single love scene of the passionate variety is included in the whole thing.

Indeed, in one of the romantic episodes, the Negro leading man rejects the direct proposal of marriage made to him by a blonde white woman. He says proudly that the people of his color would resent it and that he could not go back on the feelings and ideals of his own folks.

Other Side of the Coin

This argument might as readily have been made by a white man in refusing to enter into marriage with a Negro woman. But in another part of the plot, the very opposite occurs. A white man—a highly educated young diplomat in the British colonial service—falls in love with a Negro girl who is employed as a secretary in the office of the governor. The two characters are not often shown together and, when they are, it is with a certain standoffishness not customary for Hollywood technicians to use in modern movies. But in the end the two go off together, married, and sail for England.

In the third phase of the plot there is much ado about a girl in a prominent white family whose grandfather, it is suddenly alleged, was a Negro. The girl's father is at first distressed to learn about the hitherto unknown relative, but nevertheless becomes a candidate for local offices and goes on the stump professing a high regard for the colored- voters, who are, of course, numerous. His hypocrisy is attacked by the Negro leading man. Finally the father, at a public meeting, having been provoked into an outburst of anger, frankly admits that he doesn't like colored people and rushes away from the political platform.

Southern Argument

Whether all this makes sense isn't the point. Southerners in this country have been striving for years to convince the North that the real danger in mixed schools is that it develops social relationships which can lead to intermarriage. The movie tends to bring out in the open the subject of intermarriage and does it with good-looking people as actors so as to minimize as much as possible the element of revulsion which might have been felt by viewers as a result of less subtle treatment of the whole subject. There is, on the other hand, the possibility that youthful persons — whites and Negroes—now will regard the movie as sanctioning, if not encouraging, intermarriage. Oddly enough, while censors have arisen in the theatrical world during the recent years who changed the words of Stephen Foster's songs so as to cater to the sensibilities of Negro groups of the North, no comparable solicitude for the sensibilities of the white people of the South is exhibited in "Island in the Sun."

Focus on Integration

Naturally, many persons in the South will object to anything that lends even a remote degree of plausibility to intermarriage between whites and Negroes, but at the same time, viewed solely as a controversy in the court of public opinion, the movie is bound to focus attention on the Southern argument against school "integration." For the Southerner in the current debate has been handicapped by the refusal of many Northerners to regard intermarriage as one of the inevitable results of school "integration."

There are many states in which laws exist that prohibit intermarriage of colored people and whites. The constitutionality of such laws is still in doubt, as the Supreme Court of the United States over the years has not rendered a clear-cut decision and has often sidestepped the issue by deciding the case on other grounds.

Judging, however, by the trend of the rulings of the present Supreme Court, it seems likely that legal barriers to intermarriage will some day be removed. When that happens, the South will become doubly determined to avoid "integration" in the schools. The move "Island in the Sun" publicizes a delicate phase of the whole color problem. It's a dilemma which is bound to cause many anxious moments for the American people in the years to come.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The American dollar is selling at a discount today to both the Canadian dollar and the German mark—for quite different reasons.

In neither case is the strength of the U. S. dollar nor its first position among world currencies in question.

Demand Is Great

The Canadian dollar brings $1.06 in American money because the Canadian dollar is in short supply and great demand.

Americans want it for investment in Canadian securities and property. Many West Europeans are frightened by the shakiness of their own currencies and are putting their funds into Canadian or American securities or cash.

On the 90-day futures foreign exchange market the American dollar is selling at a five per cent discount from the German mark.

Speculators in foreign currency and German exporters have been expecting a revaluation upward of the German mark. The German government has just taken pains to deny it has any plans for that. changes in currency valuation are customarily denied right up to the zero hour.)

Expect Quick Profit

Foreign speculators have put many millions of dollars into German marks, thinking to make a quick profit of about 10 per cent if the mark is revalued upwards in terms of dollars—or to escape a loss if other European nations follow France's move toward devaluation of the franc.

The foreign exchange market is also seeing a flight from the English pound sterling to the Canadian dollar and the German mark. Talk of the possibility of devaluation of the pound has become so widespread that the British government felt compelled to deny any such intention. But foreign traders don't want to hold either pounds or francs longer than they have to, just in case.

U. S. Borrowing Cheaper

There is no flight from the American dollar to the Canadian dollar. What is happening is that Americans are investing millions in Canadian resources and its growing industries. Canadian corporations come here to borrow money and float securities, because they can save money here. While American interest rates have been rising, Canadian rates are still higher, so that borrowing is cheaper here.

But all these American funds and the fleeing currencies of Europe must be turned into Canadian dollars to be put to work there. This demand for the Canadian dollar has sent it steadily up. At $1.06 American it has surpassed its previous high of $1.05½ in November 1933.

The German mark is so strong because it has a balance-of-payments surplus of more than five billion dollars (22 billion marks) in its foreign trade dealings with its neighbors. Only with the dollar area is West Germany running a trade deficit.

The growing strain on many currencies may force a general reshuffling of values in terms of the dollar in coming weeks or months.

1,000 to Receive 5 PC Pay Boost

MECHANICVILLE (AP) — The West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. today announced a five per cent wage increase for the approximately 1,000 hourly employes of the Mechanicville mill.

The minimum boost was nine cents an hour. The old scale was not announced.

The raise, negotiated last November when the current labor contract was drawn up, went into effect Aug. 12. It will amount to $250,000 a year, mill officials said.

The third-tour shift differential was increased from 8 cents an hour to 10 cents. The second-tour differential stays at 5 cents an hour.

A general raise for all salaried employes went into effect Aug. 1.

Warming Trend Is Over Most of U. S.

By The Associated Press

The nation's weather showed little change today, with pleasant temperatures continuing in most areas. There were some wet spots.

Skies were clear and there was a general warming trend over most of the country from the plains states to the Atlantic Coast. However, light showers and cloudiness were reported from the southern Florida Peninsula. Rainfall in Miami measured nearly 3 inches in 24 hours.

Out for Alcoholics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't "preach" to alcoholics, a prominent Dallas, Tex., preacher says. The Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Shipp, pastor of Lovers Lane Methodist Church in Dallas, who is active in alcoholism rehabilitation work, warned that "if there's anything that should be avoided in dealing with an alcoholic, it is 'preaching' or 'holier than thou' attitudes." He gave his views as a study session on Alcoholism Prevention here.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I like reading the items from round about Ulster County back in the 1890's. Here are a couple from the Kingston Argus of Wednesday, March 4, 1891; one from Wallkill reads: "Eugene Tremper, the new smith at the Home Farm, took his place in the blacksmith shop on Monday morning, this week." . . . "Mr. Smith the good natured superintendent of the N. Y. C. M. Co., looks happy. They are manufacturing their own milk boxes or crates. They now have the requisite machinery . . . James Bostwick's two boys are progressing in the art of telegraphy. They have a complete set of instruments . . . Charley Crookston is learning the blacksmith trade with the Sherwood Bros. at the Corners . . . Over 31,000 quarts of milk are received daily at the Condensary. On Friday of each week they bottle 26,000 quarts as none is shipped on Saturday, the greater quantity on every Friday lasting over Sunday." . . . "Patrick Tobey has a fine team of iron grey horses coming five years old, this spring. He is so proud of them that he drives them himself. The boys have to stay at home now. Not one word about juvenile delinquents in those old papers.

Eddyville had a column with such items as: "The steam yacht, Lewis D. Black has been taken about half way from the stave dock to the creek and will remain there until a high tide comes to float her in the creek . . . Thomas Rosekrans is taking 14 inch ice out of Diamond's pond and loading an ice barge at the dock of the Brewers Ice Co. . . . The steamboat, Norwich, towed to this port last week, one large ice barge and a canal boat to be loaded with ice from James Diamond's Pond . . . The yacht, Charles T. Coutant has been taken from the L. C. Co.'s stave dock and put in the Rondout Creek . . . The steam yacht Ettie Wright was launched last week . . . Oscar J. Freer has purchased four new horses . . . Nat Terpening lost a valuable hound dog on Saturday last . . . Luther Tooker, the Canal Company boss, has repaired the tow path in the narrows in the upper creek. Isaac M. North, the superintendent of the Cornell Steamboat Co., was here one day recently . . . All the Lawrence cement boats have been taken from the Fly Mountain road and put in the Rondout creek." It was early March and it showes that Eddyville was getting ready for a busy summer season.

Floods were ever present then as now as the following Eddyville item reads: "John J. Baisden, who had the misfortune to have his boat yard swept away by the late flood and ice gorge, has had about 50 men in his employ ever since, building his boat yard up again. Mr. Baisden is now ready to haul out boats and would be glad to see all of his old customers again . . . James Terwilliger is painting John J. Baisden's new cement boat . . . The Lawrence Cement Co. has completed their dry dock which was swept away by the flood . . . B. Turner and Son have been drawing a large quantity of stone to be used in building a foundation under their large barn that was removed by the flood . . . The steam yacht, Glen, of South Rondout, Captain Henry Blodgett, steamed up to this port on Wednesday last . . . The boat Julius A. Candee was launched from the dock in front of the stores of Connelly & Shaffer and Black & Brothers."

Shokan

SHOKAN — Among Columbia County residents visiting the reservoir country Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Mesick of Spencertown, near Chatham.

Some dug wells here are still without water, as of Monday, despite the several hard showers earlier in the month. Most lawns are now showing up green after having been badly burned as a result of the drouth.

The annual fair of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church was a social and financial success. The five booths were well patronized and supper was served to 170 persons. The net sum of $400 accrued to the Aid treasury. A number of articles, including rugs and quilts, remained from the sale and these can be viewed by contacting Mrs. Neil Windrum or Mrs. William Wardell, both of Shokan.

Callers in the village recently included L. L. Beans of Trenton, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Costa of Woodstock reportedly have bought a lot on the north side of Route 28 in Ashokan. They plan to make their home in the lower village and excavation work has already been started for the dwelling. Mr. Costa is a building contractor.

Union Center

Mrs. Estel Hager and daughter, Jeanne, of Yonkers, were visitors last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Travis.

Miss Bernadette Travis is spending the week with friends in Yonkers.

Cub Scouts will hold their monthly pack meeting at Lawton Park on Monday, Aug. 26 at 7 p. m.

Guard Officers Are Removing to Albany

ALBANY (AP)—The State Division of Military and Naval Affairs will move the offices of the National Guard chief of staff and of the division's construction agency from New York City to Albany in the fall.

Maj. Gen. R. C. Brock, the guard's commanding general, said the shift would be made about Oct. 1. He said the move was "desirable from a military standpoint" since Albany was the seat of state government. The central location will make for better command and control of the state's military forces, he said.

Jewish Culture Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Interest in adult education courses of Jewish cultural and religious content has shown a sharp increase, Dr. Sydney B. Hoenig, director of Yeshiva University's Department of Adult Education, reports. He said 72 synagogues in the United States and Canada have instituted programs in conjunction with Yeshiva's adult education department. The number of participating synagogues has more than doubled in the past year.

Color Prayers for TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood producer Lew Kerner has completed a series of color prayer films for television. The one-minute shorts were photographed in places of worship throughout the United States. The filmed prayers are recited, sung, or chanted, sometimes by a single voice, sometimes by a full choir. Ministers, rabbis, and priests assisted in preparing the series, which Kerner described as non-sectarian in character. The producer reported some 200 TV stations have expressed interest in telecasting the prayer films. The series took three years to complete.

IndiansReturning For Maid of Mist Niagara Festival

NIAGARA FALLS — Indians from the six nations of the Iroquois Confederacy will return to their old hunting grounds on Goat Island October 6 as chieftains participate in the dedication of an Indian village which will be the center of activities for the Maid of the Mist Festival.

Elton Greene, grand chieftain of the Tuscarora Nation, will lead the poignant ceremonies at daybreak in a prayer to the Great Spirit for guidance during the week-long festival. His Tuscaroras will be hosts to Indians from the confederacy and other tribes.

The village on Goat Island—the strip of land between the American and Horseshoe Falls—will consist of 30 wigwams, two longhouses and a stockade. The village is being constructed by Boy Scouts under the watchful eyes of the Tuscaroras.

Actually, the Maid of the Mist Festival will get underway the previous night, October 5, with a costume ball.

But the village, where admission-free events will be held each night for the run of the festival, will not be opened officially until Sunday, October 6.

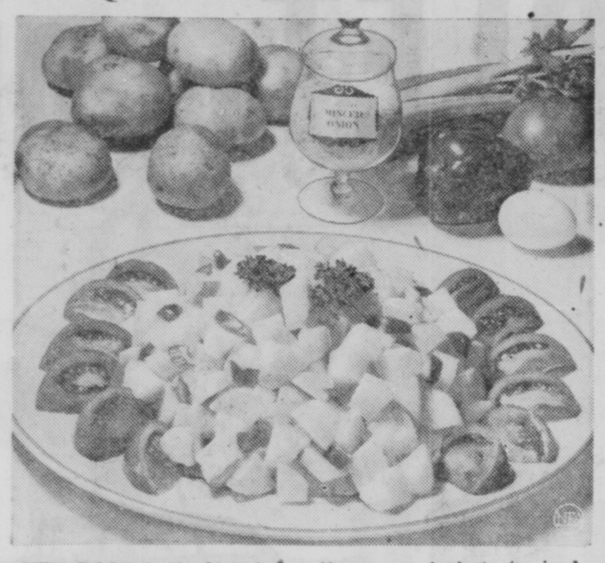

Reigning over the festival from October 5 to 13 will be Miss Donna Waters, a 21-year-old Niagara Falls office worker who this summer was adopted into the Tuscarora Nation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Waters, of Munster, Ind.

Instant Minced Onion Used For Quick Potato Salad

NEW BOON to the busy housewife appears in instant mixed onion. It makes quick potato salad easy task.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

There's a new onion product, put out by several companies under various brand names, called instant minced onion. It does not cake or pack in the jar, nor deteriorate.

Made of selected white California onions, it is "flavor controlled" because all the onions used are of the same strength. Therefore, it helps to eliminate guesswork from seasoning.

When a recipe calls for:

1 small onion — use 1 tablespoon instant minced onion.

1 medium onion—use 2 tablespoons instant minced onion.

1 large onion—use 3 to 4 tablespoons instant minced onion.

Quick Potato-Onion Salad
(Yield: 6 servings)

Place 1 quart hot, cooked, diced potatoes in a mixing bowl. Make a well in the center. Break in 1 egg. Add 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1 tablespoon cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper, ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder, 2 tablespoons instant minced onion, and 1 tablespoon boiling water. Toss lightly to mix thoroughly, but do not overmix. Chill 2 to 3 hours or until ready to serve. Add 2 cups diced celery and ½ cup diced green pepper. Arrange on a serving platter. Garnish as desired with tomato wedges and parsley.

Tuna Fish and Egg Sandwich Filling
(Yield: 2 cups or sufficient spread for 8 sandwiches)

Violence Is Nearing End In Levittown

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — There were signs today that the week-long demonstrations against the first Negro family in this eastern Pennsylvania housing development were nearing an end.

For the first time in nine nights, no crowds gathered last night to voice their protest over the presence of William E. Myers Jr. and his family.

State police Major William Ruch said he took this fact as a sign that violence might be at end. But he added that his men would remain on duty as long as necessary.

Meanwhile, Myers announced yesterday that he had been offered $3,000 more than the $12,150 he paid for his ranch style home if he would sell and move out. He would not say who made the offer and added:

"I don't want to accept it. I intend to stay in my home."

Syrian Official

charge that there is press censorship in Syria "proves that his officials in Damascus are not keeping him informed or are misinforming him."

Hits Officers

The spokesman said censorship in Syria was lifted a month ago and that western correspondents are moving in and out of Syria freely and filing uncensored copy.

The government-sponsored Damascus Radio meanwhile described Eisenhower's comment on the Syrian situation as "part of an imperialistic campaign of distortion aimed at picturing Syria as a Communist-dominated country without an independent policy of its own."

Recognizes Pattern

President Eisenhower told his news conference in Washington yesterday an old Soviet pattern seemingly is emerging in Syria in an effort to make the Middle East country a satellite of international communism. He said it was not known how far the pattern had gone because there is "a very strict censorship."

Dispatches from Beirut earlier this week said military officers are censoring every story on the Syrian crisis filed from Camascus despite the legal lifting of censorship along with martial law a few weeks ago.

Keep Perrine

the town of Marbletown where it would be placed over a small stream.

Deeply Concerned

The Historical Society said the proposed demolition of the bridge "is a matter of deep concern to those residents of Ulster County who are interested in the preservation of old landmarks which give the locale its historic atmosphere."

Attending yesterday's meeting, which was held in the offices of Attorney Roger Loughran, 280 Wall Street, were:

Jansen H. Preston, of Saugerties, president; Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of New Paltz; Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, Harry Rigby Jr., Attorney Robert A. MacKinnon, and Capt. Andrew S. Hickey, USN (ret) all of Kingston; Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck and Miss Sarah C. Lounsbery of Stone Ridge; Louis Bevier of Woodstock, Andrew J. Snyder of Rosendale, Myron S. Teller of Kingston, Mrs. Preston and Mr. Loughran.

Brewster Given Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. Brewster, western boss of the Teamsters Union, today was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 for contempt of Congress.

The sentence, the maximum for contempt of Congress, was imposed by Federal District Judge John Sirica, who rejected a plea by Brewster's attorney for probation.

Judge Sirica, however, allowed Brewster to remain free on $1,000 bond pending the outcome of an appeal.

Cody Sentenced To 15 Days More

Lawrence Cody Jr., 28, of 49 Meadow Street, who drew a 15-day jail sentence earlier in the month on a charge of resisting an officer, pleaded guilty today to a count of disorderly conduct, and was sentenced to serve another 15 days.

Arrested first early Aug. 8 by Officer Gurnsey Burger Sr., on a disorderly conduct charge, Cody was booked for resisting Officer Gavin Fisher outside of the city hall.

When arraigned before City Judge Raymond J. Mino Aug. 8, he pleaded guilty to the charge of resisting an officer and innocent to the disorderly conduct count.

The first arrest, police said, followed his refusal to move away from a car on lower Broadway where he was arguing with two persons. Instead he moved across the street to argue with two other persons, and was then arrested.

Attorney S. James Matthews appeared for the district attorney's office in court today.

Court Will Hear Case of Taximen

Reported trouble among taximen is due for airing in city court next Tuesday as the result of two arrests yesterday.

Gerald Sauers, 20, of 79 German Street, was arrested on a charge of malicious mischief, and Henry DuMond, 39, of 48 St. James Street, was charged with disorderly conduct.

Both arrests were on warrants and N. H. Wennersteen, of Glenerie Lake Park, was listed as the complainant. It is charged that Sauers scratched the complainant's car with a beer can opener and DuMond made a threat during trouble in the Pine Grove Avenue taxi area.

Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appeared for Sauers and DuMond today and City Judge Mino put the case over until Aug. 27. S. James Matthews represented the district attorney's office.

Faces Court Martial

FORT SILL, Okla. (AP) — Lt. Col. Walter P. Berger, 41, faced a general court martial today on charges of negligent homicide and dereliction of duty in the firing range deaths of four infantrymen.

Oppenheimer

cause of the intervention of vacation time, became effective as of Sept. 1. He began his duties in Newburgh Aug. 15.

Has Experience

Oppenheimer, who had served as acting superintendent during Steuding's absence in military service during World War II, 1941 to 1946, has been assistant superintendent in the department since 1928. He was named to the post during the administration of former Mayor Edgar J. Dempsey. A native of Kingston, he was educated in local schools, including Kingston High School. He is a member of Temple Emanuel, Elks and Lions clubs.

A contract for collection of garbage on a route in the central part of the city was awarded to Byron Gerlach, RD, Kingston, on a bid of $7,200, plus the furnishing of 50 gallons of gas a week. Charles L. Wesley, of Port Ewen, the only other bidder, submitted a bid of $10,000.

The contract had been awarded earlier to John Whipple, of 714 Broadway, who, it was found, was not fully equipped to handle the route.

Plan on Wider Street

On advice of City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan, the Board directed Corporation Counsel James J. Abernethy to take the necessary steps toward acquiring property needed for the widening of the intersection at Wilbur Avenue and West O'Reilly Street.

A final payment of $491.53 to the Callanan Road Improvement Co., for paving work on Dietz Court and Melvin Drive, was authorized; and the city engineers instructed to prepare plans and advertise for bids for the curbing of Emerick Street from Farrelly to Hazel Street.

Accurate Forecasts Seen From Outer Space

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A weather station in outer space, 19 miles up, could make accurate forecast for half the nation, says the Air Force doctor-pilot of a balloon that soared to a record 102,000 feet.

Maj. David G. Simons told a news conference last night that one forecaster at that altitude could accomplish more than scores of ground weather stations.

6 Days Are Approved For Police

A six-day week for police department personnel to overcome a depletion of the force due to recent suspensions, resulting from a probe of alleged burglaries within the ranks, was authorized by the Board of Police Commissioners last night.

The board also voted to request another civil service examination to compile an eligibility list for appointments at the earliest possible date, and considered several applications for appointments as special patrolmen.

10 Men Off Roll

The department has been operating on a five-day week basis, and the board decided that the six-day schedule will be necessary unfil appointment of new regular and special patrolmen makes up for the loss of 10 men, due to the present full-scale investigation of the department.

Several applications were received from men interested in appointment as special patrolmen. They are due for thorough interview and screening by the board before appointments are made.

The board also discussed the possibility of sending department members to a state police school in Albany. They would be from the rank of sergeant upward. It withheld final decision on this until a later meeting.

Crewmen Escape Following Freak Takeoff of Plane

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A big four-engine cargo plane made like a merry-go-round in a freak takeoff accident, spinning on the ground for half an hour before catching fire.

The three-man crew escaped by sliding down a rope while the plane still was circling yesterday. Minor rope burns were their only injuries.

Capt. Mike Moore, 39, of San Carlos, Calif., said the American Airlines DC6 had just left the ground at International Airport when the right inboard propeller flew off.

"It sounded like a tire blowout," Moore said.

The propeller ripped into the fuselage and one blade came out the other side and slashed into the left inboard engine nacelle.

Plane Lands Safely

Moore set the plane down safely on the runway and cut all power. But the left outboard engine continued running. Its controls had been sheared off by the propeller which smashed through the fuselage.

The plane went off the runway and started to spin clockwise while Moore and his crew frantically tried to shut off the runaway engine.

For 25 minutes they fought to sop their carrousel. "But there was no way to shut off the power because of the damaged controls," Moore said.

As the plane spun dizzily, its left dual-wheel landing gear dug a foot-deep circular furrow in the ground. The craft was pivoting on its right wheel.

Engine Catches Fire

Then the left inboard engine caught fire, and Moore, 1st Officer Mack Haines, 32, Sunnyvale, Calif., and Flight Engineer I. B. Smithson, 35, of San Mateo, Calif., decided to leave. They slid to safety down a rope dropped from an escape hatch.

The plane continued circling like a top for five more minutes while firemen extinguished the flames. Finally the big plane, like a tired and bedraggled bird, came to a stop—by itself. Why, no one yet knows.

Pay Bill Passage Would End Draft, Symington's View

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said today congressional approval of the new military pay plan proposed by Ralph J. Cordiner would "certainly end the peacetime draft."

Cordiner, president of General Electric Co., testified yesterday that an end of conscription and annual savings of five billion dollars could result from the drastic overhaul of present military pay.

Headed Commission

Cordiner headed a special presidential commission which has proposed revising present scales to permit substantial pay increases for technicians and skilled personnel who have been quitting the armed services in large numbers.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), chairman of an armed services subcommittee holding initial public hearings on the proposal, said Defense Department witnesses would be called for detailed testimony later.

$100,000 Heroin, Cocain Found In Monticello

MONTICELLO (AP)—An estimated $100,000 worth of heroin and cocain was discovered yesterday in an unclaimed suitcase, left nearly a month ago in a bus luggage rack.

The plain, brown suitcase was found by employes of the Inter-City Bus Co. at the end of the run here from New York City. It was stored in the lost-and-found but no claimant came for it.

Manager Herman Buchalter finally opened the suitcase and found 39 neatly wrapped packages inside. He turned them over to police.

Last year's budget totaled $752,490.74.

Cite Income

The total estimated income including state aid of $537,309.75 will be $591,809.75. Including a $5,000 contingency fund to pay bills between July 1 and when taxes are collected, the total amount to be raised by taxes will be $449,711.

Of the above amount to be raised $113,585 is for bonds and interest on $3,475,000 bond issue voted June 29, 1956 for the school expansion program. The balance of $336,126 is for the basic budget.

The part of the $56.30 tax rate to cover the bond and interest is approximately $12.60.

It was pointed out that no public hearing or vote is necessary for the increase as the legalities covering the approval of the proposed budget in July provide for a contingency in the event of increased interest rates on the bond issue.

3 Estonians Sail Through Iron Curtain

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Three Estonians in a 16-foot boat have sailed through the Iron Curtain and the far-ranging Russian radar system in the Baltic.

The yacht was spotted yesterday drifting with torn sails in heavy seas southeast of Stockholm. A pilot cutter went out and towed the yacht to the harbor at Dalaro.

The Estonians, two men and a woman, said they left Tallinn three days ago. They had no provisions on board and the first thing they asked for was food.

They requested political asylum and are being questioned by police.

Ike Signs Project Bill For Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed an atomic energy construction bill auhorizing preliminary studies on nuclear power reactors to be built by the government.

Senate Democrats had proposed a reactor construction program over administration protests. When the authorization legislation finally was passed on Tuesday, it contained no provision for actual construction of the disputed reactors, but only planning authority.

Improved Bill

In a statement issued yesterday when he signed the bill, Eisenhower said the measure "is a great improvement indeed over bills introduced early in the session . . . to build and operate a number of full scale power reactors at a cost for construcion alone of 400 million dollars of public money."

About the time that statement was issued, the House passed and sent to the Senate an appropriation bill which would provide the actual funds for projects contained in the authorization bill signed by the President. The Senate Appropriations Committee takes up the money bill today.

Passed by voice vote in the House, the money bill allots $2,299,718,500 of the Atomic Energy Commission, a reduction of $185,906,500 from Eisenhower's request.

Program Not Cut

The AEC weapons program — making up about 80 per cent of the money in the bill—was not cut.

These funds were approved in the House-passed appropriations bill for preliminary studies on reactor projects:

Three million dollars for planning a natural uranium gas-cooled power reactor, two million dollars for planning a large scale reactor to produce special nuclear materials, and four million dollars for preliminary work on a plutonium recycling reactor at Hanford, Wash.

Also included in the appropriations bill were funds for a program of AEC aid to cooperatives and other public power groups in obtaining atomic power.

Eisenhower noted in his statement the authorization bill directed AEC to proceed with planning the power reactors. He added:

"While I am not opposed to such projects as studies by the commission, I wish to make it clear I will oppose the expenditure of public money for construction and operation by the government of any large scale power reactor, or any prototype thereof, unless private enterprise has first received reasonable opportunity to bear or share the cost."

Invalidating

sition gave the impression that they would appeal the result of the Woodstock School vote of August 20 by proving there were 29 unqualified pro-Onteora votes. Actually the Onteora majority was 56 and by the simplest mathematics it would take proof of 56 unqualified votes to change the results.

"Since we believe that all the voters challenged by the opposition were qualified, some even being lifelong residents of Woodstock, it would seem that counsel for the opposition faces a formidable task.

"As for the statement that the original notice of the election did not contain the later date for annexation subsequently ordered by Judge Deckelman, it was counsel for the opposition himself who suggested that the modification be included in the voting resolution which was agreed on by counsel for the pro-Onteora group and was read by the chairman at opening of the meeting. Counsel for the opposition raises this technical objection only after the election has been won by the pro-Onteora group."

locality names (DUpont and FEderal in Kingston, CHerry in Saugerties, ORiole in Woodstock, OLiver in Shokan and Rosendale, OVerland in High Falls, Esopus and Phoenicia) are part of a nationwide numbering pattern. It will one day, Dalton observed permit customer dialing to all phones throughout North America.

The new telephone names have been chosen because they are simple as well as easy to spell and pronounce in all parts of the country. Similar changes are taking place in communities' telephone names throughout the nation, Dalton added.

COPENHAGEN (AP) — At least four Poles who came to Copenhagen on a tourist excursion have gone into hiding and asked political asylum, usually well informed sources said today.

The four were among about 800 Poles on the first organized Polish tour of Denmark since World War II. They landed yesterday from the passenger ship Batory.

Horses Spotlight CountyFairToday Crowd Excellent

Horses held the spotlight at the Ulster County Fair today as judging opened for several classes of horses, including 4-H Club entries.

The open class horse show was scheduled to occupy the center of attraction this afternoon, including the performance of the famous Anheuser-Busch eight-horse team in full regalia. This team was scheduled to go through its paces in the main show ring.

Attendance today was pronounced excellent by fair officials. Cool weather and sunshine offered a pleasing temperature for the last day. The fair officially closes at 5 p. m.

Attendance yesterday was described by Albert C. Kurdt, secretary of Ulster County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the fair, as "good."

He called attention to the fact that more than 30 individuals had entered horses in the horse show, with more expected in the open class before deadline.

He said he was particularly struck also with the number of cattle entered in the judging Wednesday by 4-H Club members—almost 100 head.

There are approximately 400 different 4-H Club exhibitors at the fair.

In addition to entries by nearly 500 Ulster County residents in nine different departments, a wide variety of commercial and educational displays were also offered.

Attracting much attention was a "sky lift"—a hydraulic tree-trimming truck exhibited by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp.

Red Folk Not Told About Nuclear Ban

LONDON (AP) — The Russian people have not yet been told of the west's condition offer to halt all nuclear tests for two years.

Moscow Radio's broadcast today covering the U. N. disarmament talks was devoted entirely to remarks by Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin. He attacked the west for refusing to ban tests in advance of a package disarmament agreement.

The Moscow broadcast to Soviet listeners made no mention of the western plan presented yesterday or of Zorin's reaction to it.

Magazine Trial In Recess, Star May Take Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The criminal libel trial of Confidential and Whisper magazines is in recess today with the prospect that the first movie star may make her appearance on the witness stand tomorrow.

Fred Meade, operator of Confidential, Inc., and one of the defendants, will return to the stand for cross-examination when the case resumes tomorrow.

Brands Story Untrue

Then, Defense Atty. Arthur J. Crowley has indicated, French actress Corinne Calvet, subject of a Confidential story, will be called.

Miss Calvet said yesterday the story about her purported amorous demands on actor John Bromfield and later on actor Jeff Stone was "absolutely untrue."

"Confidential Magazine is a malignant growth," she said in an interview. "It must be destroyed and I will be happy to help even if it means some embarrassment."

Meade testified yesterday that he substantiated Confidential stories about singer Dorothy Dandridge and actress Mae West by obtaining signed statements from the men involved.

Given Affidavits

Meade, who with his wife, Marjorie, operated Hollywood Research, Inc., said bandleader Dan Terry gave him an affidavit about a purported affair with Miss Dandridge.

And Meade said he and private detective Barney Ruditsky obtained a statement from the late boxer Chalky Wright that he lived in an apartment with Miss West for a year.

Sees Regime Changing

ROME (AP) — Syria's ousted military attache in Rome says the regime is changing in his country and that he probably will not return to Damascus to face charges of participating in a purported American plot to overthrow Syria's government.

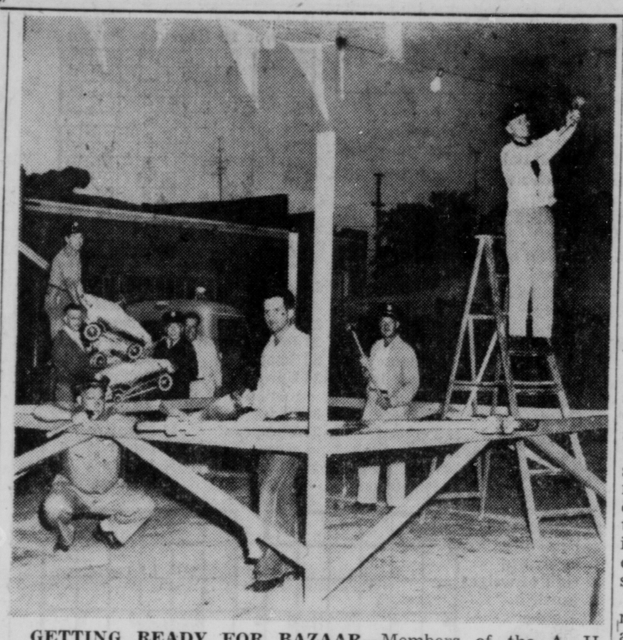

Col. Ibrahim Husseiny was fired from his diplomatic post last week after the charges were made against him. He said then he would return home and declared he had absolute confidence in his country's justice. But last night he said: "For the time being I will not move from Rome."

Kingston Trust

of stock to $20, and issuing five shares for one, the book value of new shares would be $162.80.

After issuing a 100 per cent stock dividend each stockholder would hold 10 shares of a book value of $81.40 each for every one share now held at a book value of $814.

After the 2,500 new shares are sold at $60 per share, the total capital funds would be $2,185,000, represented by 27,500 shares resulting in a book value of $79.45 per share. Market value would depend on what an interested buyer is willing to pay.

From the approach road leading off Route 28, the motel area is reached by a road which turns to the right. Another road, leading to the left extends through the tract which will be developed for home sites.

Has Long Experience

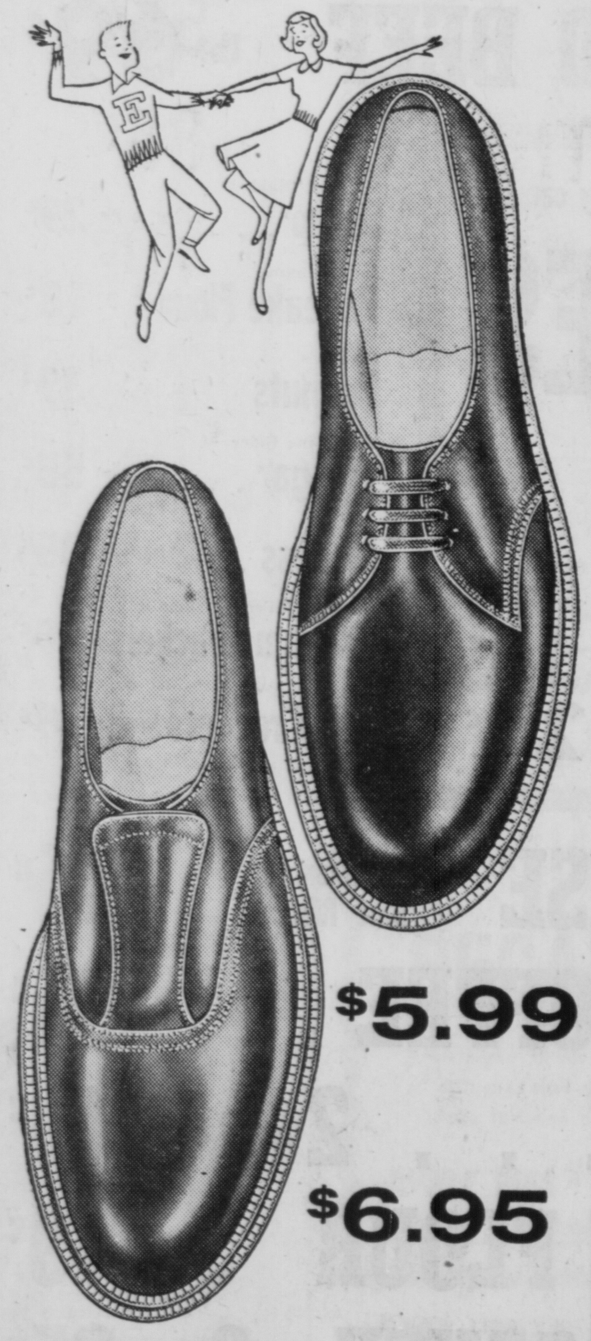

Michele is a motel operator of long experience. The one he has in the Poughkeepsie area is on South road opposite the Dutchess Country Club. A Howard Johnson restaurant is on the site. The restaurant to be built on the local development, he said, will be of a high class type.

Rymkevitch, an engineer, holds several patents on construction machinery units. His Boiceville company is engaged in various types of construction, land clearing, road building, grading, excavating and the building of swimming pools.

The new home-site development, he said, will be spacious and uncluttered, and will be conducive to the building of better type homes.

Democrat Calls Advisers to Ike Frantic on '58

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said today President Eisenhower's political advisers "have got him jumping the gun" on 1958 campaigning by criticizing the Democratic-controlled Congress.

"It looks to me as though some of these advisers are getting frantic about their prospects in next year's congressional election," Johnson said. Control of Congress will be at stake in the balloting then.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he is "tremendously disappointed" because Congress has passed so little of the legislation he recommended.

All Must Share Blame

However, Eisenhower apparently holds Republicans, as well as Democrats, accountable for this. He said in a response to a question that everybody who voted against "what I thought was the right thing to do—why, they have to share the blame."

Eisenhower said the proposals he sent to Congress comprise a Republican program that he said is aimed at meeting the best interests of the country as a whole.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said he was in no mood to quarrel with the President about the record of the Democratic-controlled Congress. Johnson said that record would speak for itself.

"By the time Congress adjourns we will have given serious consideration to all of the recommendations the President has made," Johnson said. "We will have approved those we think are to the best interests of the country and will have defeated those we think are bad."

Big 3 Silent On Reuther Bid To Cut Prices

DETROIT (AP)—The big three are keeping a tight-lipped silence on what their replies will be to Walter P. Reuther's proposal that they cut prices on 1958 cars this fall and in return the United Auto Workers will go easy on wage demands next year.

Reuther called it a plan to stop and reverse the inflationary trend.

The hush-hush attitude — "nobody is leaking a word — "is a sign of the respect top industrialists have for the forensic and bargaining talents of the UAW chief.

Must Convince Public

The best talent at General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. apparently is at work on the task of phrasing a reply to Reuther's 6,000-word letter. In saying no to Reuther, the companies have to convince the public they too are against inflation.

The letter went out last Friday to GM President Harlow H. Curtice, Ford President Henry Ford II, and Chrysler President L. L. Colbert.

Replies from the corporation be coming along any day now.

It's a safe bet that Reuther will get a polite no.

Benefit Laws Discussed At Volunteers Meeting

Five hypothetical cases of coverage involving volunteers under firemen's benefit laws were discussed by Charles W. Potter, of Granville, counsel to the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Fire Laws, at the monthly meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association held Tuesday evening.

Cases cited were: 1) Protection of exempts remaining on company's active roll. 2) Response to Mutual Aid calls from a neighboring district. 3) Response to an alarm on the Thruway. 4) Transfer of residence to another district and maintaining membership in fire company, and 5) Final decision in adjusting compensation.

Would Retain Commission

The association voted to petition Senator E. Ogden Bush and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson to urge that the commission on fire laws be retained for further study since its efforts, to date, have been of assistance to firemen.

Potter said a volunteer fireman, who has received his exempt certificate, is protected under the law if he remains on the company's active roll. A volunteer who has served five years and has an exempt certificate may remain an active fireman and is covered by law as long as he is an active fireman.

A fire company, responding to a Mutual Aid call from a neighboring city, village, town or fire district, has its members covered by a section of the municipal law governing the district which summons the aid.

Law Is Cited

If an injury or damage to equipment occurs in an accident before the company leaves its own fire district, the district to which it is summoned would be responsible. He cited a section of the municipal law covering such cases.

Response to alarms on the Thruway is similar by law to fighting any other fire, Potter said. A call does not have to come from an official of the Thruway, he noted, for any person may summon assistance.

The responsibility in case of an accident while a company is responding to a Thruway call and finds it necessary to pass through other fire districts is covered in similar manner to any other call, he said.

If a member of a company or department moves out of the fire district and still retains his membership, he is covered by law if he can be of service to his company, Potter said.

Change of Residency

He can continue to maintain his membership in the company, although he may reside or be employed outside the district and referred to a section of the town law.

Insurance is carried by the town to pay claims in the event a fireman is injured or killed in the performance of duty and the Workman's Compensation Board must make the final decision in the adjustment of the compensation.

George Majestic of Gardiner was elected second vice-president Tuesday night to fill the office left vacant at the recent election.

The Wawarsing Volunteer Fire Company was accepted as a member of the association, becoming the 71st company to join.

Progress was noted on the two-way radio program in a report by Winfred Snyder, of Hurley, Ulster County fire coordinator.

Otto Frisk, Dutchess County coordinator, who was authorized by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors to draw specifications, said a further report will be made at the September meeting.

President Joseph L. Murphy presided at the meeting which was attended by representatives of 37 companies. The September meeting will be held at Kerhonkson with the Kerhonkson, Accord and Napanoch fire companies as hosts.

Maglie Confident About New Role As Video Actor

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball star Sal Maglie is cool, calm and fairly confident about suddenly becoming television's newest pioneer.

"I know what I'm going to do, but not how," he declares in the tones of a pitcher familiar with tight spots on the diamond.

Sal, sometimes known as "The Barber" for his ability at shaving the hitting averages of opponents, steps before the NBC-TV network cameras Sunday as the first baseball expert to try big league dramatic acting.

Hour-Long Show

He will perform in "The Littlest Little Leaguer," an hour-long opus coming to bat a 9 p. m.

The situation will not take Sal too far from familiar realms. The plot concerns an 11-year-old lad (played by Peter Lazer, precisely 11 himself) who has a burning ambition to play the game.

Although Maglie will be cast as Maglie, and there will be a few brief film clips of Ebbets Field where he performs in real life for the Brooklyn Dodgers, the drama venture will be unusual for at least two reasons.

Sal will appear on camera only in street clothes, and his two big scenes will require a certain minimum of emotional portrayal rather than athletic prowess.

Cues, Lines Important

"If I have the cues and lines I'll be all right," he shrugs with the serenity of a man with nerves under firm control.

"I'm just going to try to get those words out," he continues. "I guess you might say I follow the teleprompter school of acting."

Confronted with 15 pages of dialogue, including several extended speeches, Maglie takes an attentive attitude toward his dramatic debut.

"I take this with me wherever I go this week," he says, waving the script. "And that includes into the dugout. I hope Alston understands."

Walter Alston, manager of the Dodgers, has nodded his approval.

"I try to learn the big ones first," explains Maglie of his rehearsal methods, and thereupon recites excerpts in a manner indicating determination to give a real performance.

Script Changes Asked

As a matter of fact, Maglie, exercising a star's ancient theatrical right, has suggesed certain script changes.

"That speech is too long, and doesn't sound like me," he asserted at a story conference. The line was changed.

As for stage fright, swarthy Sal indicates he feels no more concern than any other man who is used to being called into ball games at crucial spots.

"After all I've been on television a lot of times, in guest spots on sports shows," amends Maglie. "And a season or so ago I appeared on the Red Buttons show.

"I threw balls at Red's head in a target.

"That didn't really take any acting talent, and I was on maybe two minutes. This time I'll be on camera a total of 15 minutes or more."

ALBANY (AP) — A two-million-dollar state highway connecting Schuylerville to Bemis Heights in Saratoga County will be opened Monday, the State Public Works Department said today.

Gov. Harriman will participate in ceremonies at Schuylerville formally opening the road.

Dies of Injuries

AUBURN (AP)—Gerald E. McCormack, 20, of nearby Jordan, died yesterday in a hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday when he was crushed between a farm implement and a tree.

He was a senior in chemical gineering at Clarkson College, Potsdam.

Injuries Are Fatal

ROCHESTER (AP) — Edward V. Herman, 70, injured Monday when he was struck by an automobile in tow died yesterday in a hospital.

Authorities said Herman tripped on the tow rope as he tried to get out of the way when the autos began to move.

Boy, 2, Found Unscratched; In 17-Foot Hole Five Hours

BIG RIVER, Sask. (AP)— A few minutes after a farmer stopped at the 17-foot mark drilling a well test hole last night, his 2-year-old nephew tumbled into it.

Five hours later volunteer rescue workers brought the wailing child out through a tunnel from a trench hastily dug beside the 10-inch hole.

Little Kimdale Smith didn't have a scratch on him and doctors said he was in "very good condition." Nurses said the lad was cheerful. And when his mother momentarily left his bedside in a hospital afterward, Kim bounded out of bed to follow her.

Sister Viewed Fall

Kim was wearing only short pants and shoes as he played with his 15-year-old sister Beverly about suppertime. She saw him toddle to the opening, stumble and disappear.

Kim is "a venturesome type who knows no fear," his father said.

His arms were partly raised and tightly pinned, his hands about at face level. He could move his head and as he wailed up the hole, his mother told him from above to kick his feet to keep warm in the chilling night air of west central Canada. Two inches of water filled the bottom of the hole.

Because of the cramped position a noose of rope couldn't be slipped over his shoulders and anyway, a Royal Canadian mountie said later, it was "too dangerous an operation."

100 Aid Rescue

Approximately 100 volunteers with shovels and two bulldozers answered police siren alarms and came to the farm about a mile north of this lumbering and fishing town of 900 persons.

For a while after he was found, Jim was silent. But as volunteers rallied in for a desperate attempt to reach the boy in time, he began a wailing that at least was reassurance he was still conscious. Oxygen was forced down the hole to him.

His mother, Mrs. Fred Smith of Saskatoon, 125 miles south of Big River, kept up a reassuring conversation with the lad as the rescuers started to sink a shaft parallel to the hole. All others were kept away from the top of the hole to prevent possible cave-ins around the mouth.

By the time the lad was brought out, almost the entire community was there rooting for him.

May Transplant Kidney in Twin

BOSTON (AP) — Desperately ill from kidney disease, a 14-year-old farm girl from Missouri was rushed by military plane to Peter Bent Brigham hospital today in the hope that transplanting a kidney from her identical twin sister would save her life.

Pioneer teams of Peter Bent Brigham-Harvard Medical School surgeons have already saved the lives of several twins by successfully developing a transplanting technique.

Dolores Huskey — her kidneys hopelessly damaged by nephritis —took a turn for the worse and an Air Force plane was authorized to fly her, her sister Doris, and her parents to Boston.

Strike Ends After 3 Years Against Standard Stores

The three-year strike against Standard Furniture Company stores in Albany, Troy and Schenectady by Local 2506, Retail Clerks International Association, AFL-CIO, ended yesterday with counting of employes' ballots in a National Labor Relations Board election.

Picketing at the Albany store began on April 8, 1954, and was ended earlier this week. During the strike pickets also picketed the Kingston store on Fair Street but were withdrawn some time ago. The Kingston store was not involved in the strike, there being no clerk's local in this city.

The count in Albany was 14 to 0 against representation by the union. The election was held June 28 but count was delayed by union objections which were overruled by the NLRB August 14. Counting of the vote was done by Sidney Levy, NLRB office, with Robert H. Jones, attorney, for Standard, and Harry Newman, president of Local 1506 attending.

Eight salesmen originally walked out in 1954 over a dispute over a new contract. Some later returned to work while others sought other jobs and were replaced.

Since March the strike effort in Albany has lagged. Paul LaFayette, an international vice-president of the Retail Clerks, who visited the Albany picket line frequently, was suspended and later quit the union as an investigation of the organization's affairs was launched by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of New York. LaFayette was charged by his union with conduct "which tended to bring disgrace and humiliation upon the association and its membership, and which caused widespread charges of corruption and misconduct."

Flu-Like Illness Spreads in Camp

ALBANY (AP) — An illness similar to Asiatic flu is spreading through a migrant labor camp in western New York, the State Health Department reported today.

A spokesman said tests to determine whether it was Asiatic flu would take about two weeks.

Seventy-five cases of Asiatic flu at a migrant labor camp near Auburn in central New York, previously were confirmed.

The new suspected outbreak is at the Ikler camp in the town of Weathersfield, Wyoming County. Ten of the 15 inhabitants have been stricken since Aug. 17, including all four of the children. All the inhabitants are Negroes who arrived at the camp this month from Atlantic, Va.

Earlier this week, the department announced it was investigating an outbreak among boys at a camp near Lake Placid. The boys had recovered over the weekend.

Town May Seek State Help

Ballston Sheriff Under Fire In Probe of Boy's Hanging

BALLSTON LAKE (AP) — Angry residents of this little community charge incompetency thus far in the investigation of the hanging death of a boy.

They say they will demand a state investigation if they are not satisfied with Saratoga County efforts.

More than 75 persons signed a petition last night contending that they did not believe the July 20 death of Peter Curran, 11, was accidental. They also accused Sheriff Wesley DeVoe of "maltreatment of office" and said his efforts were ineffective.

Not at Meeting

Neither the sheriff nor a representative showed up at a meeting in the village fire hall last night, despite a petition that they attend. Half of the 400 residents signed that petiion.

The group voted to ask the state attorney general to enter the case if they continued dissatisfied.

Sheriff DeVoe said yesterday that his investigation was continuing and that he saw no need to attend the neeting. County District Attorney Carleton J. King also said yesterday that the case was still open and that he knew nothing of the meeting.

State police have reportedly begun an investigation.

Peter, found hanging from a tree in the front yard of his home here, with his hands tightly bound behind his back. Dr. Roland Faulkner, a coroner, ruled the death accidental.

The villagers said they were dissatisfied with the sheriff's investigation. They asked in the petition: "How can an 11-year-old boy hang himself from a tree with his hands tied securely behind his back?"

Mother Gives Version

The boy's mother, Mrs. Evelyn Curran, gave to a reporter this version of Peter's condition when found:

"He was wearing clean clothes when he left the house. A short time later, when he was discovered hanging from the tree, his shoes were off, his clothing was very soiled and his back bore scratches and scuff marks. The rope was knotted around his neck twice and his hands were tied. . . it looked as though Peter's hands were tied behind his back and that he had tried desperately to free them."

Mrs. Curran, her face buried in her hands, said, "but I'm sure of one thing — Peter couldn't possibly have done this, even accidentally."

4-Day Labor Ends

Bodies of 3 Men Killed in Tunnel Blast Brought Out

OSWEGO (AP)—After four days and nights of labor, workers today reached the surface with the bodies of three construction men entombed in a tunnel under Lake Ontario.

The three were killed in an explosion Sunday when they were about 5,000 feet inside the tunnel, preparing for a dynamite blast that was to put the tunnel into use as part of the city water-supply system.

During early efforts to reach the bodies, one man perished for lack of oxygen and many other workers were overcome by gas. Since then, mining experts had worked to purify the air.

Wore Gas Masks

The men who carried the bodies wore gas masks, however. They descended into the 6,250-ft. tunnel at 9 last night and reached the surface with the bodies shortly after 3 this morning. At the end of the tunnel, the bodies were placed in a crane-operated bucket and hoisted through a shaft to the surface.

The dead were Phil Aylor, 33, of Aylor, Va., foreman of the tunnel project; Linwood P. Heiston, 47, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., the general superintendent, and John Lagoe, 40, an electrician of Oswego.

A rescue worker, Lloyd Matteson, 32, of nearby Scriba, was asphyxiated Sunday while trying to recover the bodies.

The explosion was the first serious accident in the 17-month project of digging the tunnel through solid rock 100 feet under Lake Ontario.

The cause of the explosion is not known. Something apparently set off a charge of high-potential dynamite. The three victims were about to place the dynamite at the end of the tunnel in order to blast through the last 15 to 18 feet of rock and open the tunnel to water.

The rescue workers included a five-man team from Cayuga Rock Salt Mines, Ithaca, Donald Backus, local representative of the State Bureau of Mines, and George Collick, a foreman for the Herbert F. Darling Co., which is handling the project.

Repentant Thief Pays After 20 Years

GRAND HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — A repentant thief has sent each of Grand Haven's two dime stories a quarter to pay for a 10 cent item he stole 20 years ago.

The quarters were sent to city manager R. V. Terrill along with a note which read: "I'm enclosing two quarters as I understand there are two dime stores in Grand Haven. I don't know which one I took the 10 cent item from . . .please give each store a quarter so I may be sure the right one gets it. A hopeful Christian."

3 Tablespoons melted butter or margarine
4-oz can shredded coconut (1½ cups)
9-oz can crushed pineapple (do not drain)
1 cup water
1 Tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 pkg. lemon gelatin

Lutheran Stand May Come Today On Global Arms

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Lutherans consider today how far to go in taking the church into world politics.

Pending in the Lutheran World Federation's third assembly was a resolution setting forth the federation's "grave concern about the problems which continue to obstruct justice and threaten the peace."

The hub of the resolution is a section applauding a recent statement by the Commission of Churches on International Affairs, which proposed a broad plan looking toward global disarmament.

One federation delegate publicly asked for a stronger stand against nuclear testing, urging the organization to say simply and emphatically "We don't want the rulers of the world to endanger the lives of men by atomic tests."

DAV Membership . . . At All-Time High

BUFFALO (AP) — Membership in the Disabled American Veterans is at an all-time high, according to the DAV national commander.

Joseph F. Burke of Bayonne, N. J., yesterday told delegates to the national convention that on June 30 196,750 persons belonged to the DAV.

But, he continued, two million veterans were eligible to join and he urged a membership goal of at least 500,000.

In his annual report he asked members to telegraph President Eisenhower asking his approval of a bill increasing benefits to disabled veterans.

The bill, recently passed unanimously by both houses of Congress, would grant increased compensation of 10 per cent to all disabled veterans and 24 per cent to those who are totally disabled.

The delegates spent much of the day at the Erie County fair at nearby Hamburg where they marched in a parade before Gov. Harriman.

Congressional Leaders Sit Tight on CR

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two party leaders in the house, both in their 70s, have acted more like a couple of oldtimers having a waltz by themselves than legislators seriously seeking a compromise on the Civil Rights Bill.

For days Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, 75 and boss of the House Democrats, and Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, 73 and captain of the House Republicans, have been saying of each other to newsmen but not to each other:

"He can come to me if he wants to work out a compromise."

Neither went to the other.

They're Not Talking

This is the first time in the memory of newsmen covering Congress that Rayburn, with 44 years in the House, and Martin, with 33 years there, have not been speaking to each other on a piece of major legislation.

Each has sat tight, waiting for the other to make a move to break through the wall that has grown up between the two parties in the House on the Civil Rights Bill.

Democrats and Republicans are anxious for as much credit as possible—both have their eye on the Northern Negro vote—if a civil rights bill is passed this year.

And if it isn't passed, the party which could plausibly blame the other would have a handy issue in the 1958 congressional elections.

Bill in Coma

The bill—until yesterday — had been in a kind of coma since the Senate passed it 15 days ago and sent it back to the house for agreement or compromise. The house previously had passed a different version of the Civil Rights Bill.

House Democrats had been willing to make a compromise. But Republicans said the Democrats didn't go far enough. They didn't even tell this to each other. They told it to newsmen.

Under present procedure in federal courts a man can be tried for contempt and jailed by a judge, without a jury trial. The House bill would let it stay that way.

But the Senate said: For criminal contempt there must be a jury trial not only in voting rights cases but for any kind of criminal contempt in any kind of case coming before a federal judge.

Republicans, from President Eisenhower on down, objected to the Senate bill.

House Democrats suggested the house and senate could work out a compromise by limiting jury trials on criminal contempt charges to voting rights cases.

Proposes Compromise

At first the Republicans wanted none of that, but yesterday Martin —to newsmen but not directly to Rayburn—proposed a Republican compromise:

Knock out jury trials for every kind of criminal contempt case except when it involved voting rights but—even then the judge would make the decision on whether to try the case himself or let a jury do it. If he tried it himself, the maximum penalty on conviction would be less than if the defendant stood trial before a jury.

Democrats suddenly clammed up. They needed, they said, time to think. It was reported today that democratic leaders are cool to the new GOP plan.

The bill itself has been lying still in the House Rules Committee.

Woman Wins Delay Against Deportation

GENEVA (AP)—A Spanish woman who wed a Geneva man by proxy after a pen-pal courtship has apparently won a delay in deportation proceedings against her.

A spokesman at Rep. John Taber's office told newsmen here yesterday that immigration officials have agreed to delay the deportation of Mrs. Moses Albino until after the birth of her baby in December.

The congressman's office said Taber had discussed the case with immigration officials and was prepared to introduce a bill in Congress if necessary to allow Mrs. Albino to remain in this country.

Mrs. Albino, 28, the former Rosarito Vincente Cembrano of Seville, came to the U. S. on a visitor's visa—the quota for Spanish immigrants having been filled. When the visa expired, she was ordered deported.

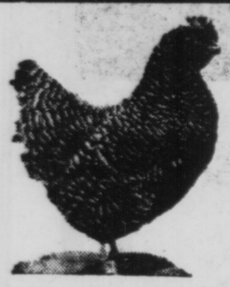

Her husband works in a restaurant.

More than 250 types of soil are found in Texas.

Jump Bidding Adds Confusion

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

East's jump to three spades was a many purpose bid. Perhaps his side could make a lot of spades. Perhaps he could shut out the opponents. Perhaps he would get them into the wrong contract.

South was not going to be shut out. He toyed with the idea of bidding three no-trump but finally decided that a four-diamond bid would be better.

My old friend, Joe Cohan of Wooster, Ohio, former president of the ACBL, who sat West, passed.

North looked over his collection of cheese. He counted his 12 points a few times and eventually raised his partner to five diamonds. He did have fine diamond support and there can be no great criticism of his bid, although I do feel that discretion would have been the better part of valor and that a pass was in order.

East passed. He had done his full duty when he bid three spades. When it came around to Joe he doubled. He knew that his four diamonds would bother declarer and his queen of spades was a very pleasing lead.

Joe opened the queen of spades. South won with the ace and laid down the king of diamonds. East dropped the ten of clubs.

South's next play was the three of hearts. Joe hopped right up with his ace and led the eight of clubs to his partner.

There was a good reason for this lead instead of the conventional fourth best. Joe did not want his partner to play him for any high club.

East won the ace of clubs and cashed a high spade. Another spade was led and ruffed by South's queen. He picked up trumps and spread his hand for down one.

Okays Gas Pipelines

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission yesterday gave temporary authority to Home Gas Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., to build and operate about $3,823,000 worth of natural gas pipeline facilities in New York State.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If Daniel Boone were born again tomorrow, he'd die of claustrophobia before he even became a teen-ager.

He couldn't survive the eternal sameness of life that is a growing curse in a civilization becoming ever more crowded.

How crowded can one get? Well, I was told the other day of a psychiatrist who now makes his patients lie down on his couch in pairs and tell their troubles together. The doctor allots one of his ears to each patient.

Lost More Deeply

The individual man is getting lost ever more deeply in the mass of mankind. The new fetish words are teamwork and togetherness.

Nobody ever does anything by himself any more. Legend has it that Sir Isaac Newton discovered the law of gravity when a falling apple conked his noggin. If the same thing happened today, Sir Isaac would have to issue a public statement saying:

"Gentlemen, this was a team job in every way. Without the wholehearted and heart-warming support of my silent colleague, the apple tree, this great achievement would have been impossible. No man could have done it alone."

Modern man's crying need is for some form of self-expression.

Few Tips Offered

Here are a few tips on how a poor worm can turn, if he dares to be different:

1. If your wife tells you "Come mouse, help me do the dishes," tell her flatly: "No, I'm tired of doing the dishes with you." After a little surprised argument, she will give in. Then you can go into the kitchen and to the dishes all by yourself.

2. Does the waiter at your lunch time restaurant habitually keep you waiting for half an hour before asking your order? Remember, you don't have to take this kind of treatment sitting down. Bawl him out. Then stand up and wait.

3. Are you bored with getting the same old dunning letters from a loan company? Why not borrow from another firm? Then you can get the same old dunning letters over a different signature?

4. Do your children hog the television set and force you to watch "Lassie?" Well, put your foot down. Make them switch to "Rin-Tin-Tin." You'll be amazed what a subtle difference this makes in your life (so subtle it may take you years even to be fully aware of it).

5. Change your daily habits. If you've been smoking a cigarette with only 20,000 tiny filters, switch to a brand with 20,001 tiny filters. One more small hole in your head can make a world of difference.

Ketchikan, Alaska, lies 500 miles closer to the Orient than any other part of the continental United States.

Bill Is Before Ike On Saving Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House resolution designed to save the famed aircraft carrier Enterprise from the scrap heap was headed for President Eisenhower's desk today.

The measure authorizes the Navy to turn the historic World War II vessel over to an association headed by Fleet Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey (Ret.). The association plans to mainain the Enterprise here as a permanent national shrine.

Will Commence To Dredge River Above Hudson

Navigators were notified today that dredging operations in the Hudson River at Hudson, Priming Hook and Stockport Middle Ground will be commenced on or about Aug. 26 and will be in progress for approximately 60 days.

The announcement was made by the officer of the engineer in charge, U. S. Army Engineer District, New York.

The dredging will be done by Gibson and Cushman, Inc., the announcement said.

Plant to be used will consist of a hydraulic dredge, floating pipe line, derrick boats and attendant plant which will be working both day and night, six days per week, excluding Sundays, and will be moored within the areas on Sunday.

Dredging operations may require that the pipe line cross the 27-foot channel. While the pipe line is across the channel it will be opened, upon signal, for the passage of vessels, the engineer's office said.

It is requested that all navigators plying the Hudson River in that vicinity during the progress of the work pass the contractor's plant at a slow rate of speed, in accordance with signals from the dredge, and cooperate as far as possible with the engineer's office in the execution of the work.

Heart Attacks Fell Couple Within Minutes

ROCHESTER (AP)—Heart attacks within minutes of each other killed an elderly Rochester man and his wife yesterday.

John F. Laney, 75, collapsed and died as he was washing his automobile. His wife, Bertha, 70, collapsed and died as she bent to pick him up with the aid of a neighbor.

Along Capitol Corridors

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY (AP)—This is supposed o be a political "off" year, but you can't prove it by following Gov. Harriman around.

The Democratic governor obviously is a fellow who believes in making hay in the Upstate farmland while the summer sun shines.

Since he returned from Puerto Rico early this month, Harriman has hit the grass-roots trail hard and often. His face has been and will be a familiar one at picnics, fairs and luncheons throughout the state.

Faces Busy Schedule

Last week he was in Rochester, Newark and Palmyra. He showed up at the Wayne County fair.

This week his schedule listed the Geneva sesqui-centennial, the opening of a part of the Thruway's Erie section in the western sector, the Erie County fair at Hamburg, the Altamont fair (tentatively) and the races at Saratoga.

Next week he's down for picnics in Seneca Falls and Auburn, and highway opening (Schuylerville-Bemis Heights).

After that? Well, the governor's office still is sorting out invitations.

The Republican and Democratic high commands mark this down as an "off" year because there are no statewide elections. This normally is a time for planning ahead.

Next year will be the big year. Harriman will be up for re-election and says he will run. The U. S. Senate seat of Republican Irving M. Ives also will be at stake. Ives says he intends to run.

Harriman's summer jaunts about the state, although generally billed as non-political, have the air of advance campaigning.

At state fairs and picnics, the technique is to mingle and chat with small groups. Occasionally, the governor will reel off a prepared speech — such as the one at the Geneva celebration Tuesday.

He announced the state would help build a public housing project in Geneva. He also pointed to progress in state highway construction in the area and observed that state aid to public schools in Ontario County had increased during his administration.

Another Aspect

There's another political aspect to his visits. Most communities will be electing mayors in the fall. The Democratic candidates like to be seen with the governor, for prestige purposes.

Harriman's position is that, as governor, he likes to get around the state and show himself to the people he represents.

If the people like what they see, says Democratic strategists, that's just fine. Maybe they'll remember that next year.

Legislature Is Hit on Cutting Sheriffs' Income

SCHROON LAKE (AP)—A Republican assemblyman says the state Legislature has cut the income of sheriff's departments by passing bills providing for collections of civil judgments by lawyers.

Malcolm Wilson of Yonkers said yesterday that collection of such judgments had long been the responsibility of sheriffs. The fees received had been a considerable portion of the total income of sheriffs' officers, he said.

Wilson, who spoke at the 23rd annual conference of the State Sheriffs Assn., urged the members to intensify opposition to any such measures.

Wilson said that several bills passed by the Legislature in recent years had provided for collection of civil judgments by persons other than sheriffs. He specified lawyers or their representatives.

Albert E. Stone of Syracuse was elected president of the association.

Also elected were John E. Hoy of Yonkers, first vice president; Howard Harvey of Ithaca, second vice president; Charles C. McCloskey Jr. of Mayville, secretary; and Carl K. McCloy of Lake George, treasurer.

Missing GIs Found Alive on Island

FORT BUCKNER, Okinawa (AP)—Two American soldiers reported missing at sea in a landing craft Saturday have been found alive on the tiny island of Iriomote, about 270 miles south of Okinawa, the Army announced today.

They were identified as Pfc. Robert Musshagen of Bergen, N. Y., and Pfc. Lester J. Mahlon, of Bethlehem, Pa.

The two soldiers were assigned to the U. S. Army transportation group on Okinawa and attached to a civil administration team on Yaeyama Island, about 250 miles south of Okinawa. They were found Tuesday.

Ave Urges Support Of Forces' Coverage

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman has urged New York's congressmen to support federal legislation that would extend social security coverage to policemen and firemen in this state.

In a telegram to members of New York's congressional delegation, the Democratic governor said yesterday that the hazardous work of policemen and firemen entitled them and their families to all available protection.

The Legislature's Republican leaders, Sen. Walter J. Mahoney and Assembly speaker Oswald D. Heck, also have urged passage of the legislation.

School 4—Interior painting and a completely reconstructed and decorated lunchroom provided.

School 3—Five rooms received new tiled floors; corridors received new floors, and four rooms have received new heating. It is planned to paint the interior during the winter.

School 2 — Equipped with venetian blinds and a new teacher's room. A new sprinkler system has been installed in the basement area of the school as an added safety precaution.

School 5 — Received some painting, desks in five rooms sanded and varnished; new radiation installed.

MJM—Gym floor completely refinished.

High School—Venetian blinds installed throughout west wing. Desks in seven classrooms and study hall have been sanded and revarnished.

Routine summer cleaning has been provided for other elementary schools, Mr. Soper said.

School authorities have been advised by Gerard W. Betz, architect, and the contractor that work on the Vocational Building addition will not be completed by September 1, Mr. Soper said, and M. Clifford Miller, high school principal, is arranging alternate plans until the work is completed.

Miss Keen is employed by FairRite Products in Wallkill and attended Wallkill Central School.

'The Children's Hour' Current Phoenicia PlayhouseProduction

With great sensitivity and honest craftsmanship, the Children's Hour by Lillian Hellman opened last night at the Phoenicia Playhouse. It will run through August 25 with curtain time at 8:40 p. m. Because of the nature of the plot, only adults will be admitted.

Do not be misled by the title of Miss Hellman's work, for it has no connection with Longfellow's famous poem. It is a melodramatic tragedy which poignantly and frankly relates the way two young headmistresses of a girls school have their careers shattered and reputations scarred by scandalous rumors. This is brought about by one of their students, a showoff, bully and braggert, and psychopathic liar, who makes up the whole thing about their relationship. The story is related to the child's powerful grandmother and soon spreads till the school closes. One of the young women loses her fiancee, the other partner commits suicide and when the truth outs, the grandmother bears the social stigma of her narrow-minded and impulsive mistake. Only the brat seems not to have suffered.

It is always a pleasure to see this acting group assume different roles from week to week with such fluidity, grace, and mastery. Their versatility alone is commendable, for constant transmission of character parts can be handled by only the most experienced artists. Some of the outstanding performances were given by Katherine Helamond, Susan Mennis, Tommie Russell, Nick Sowka, Ann Hamilton, Shirley Summa and Jean Asch. Adrian Hall, the director, keeps the audience in mind for Miss Hellman's work is full of well-acted, well-written and well-directed scenes.

As it's final production of it's premier season, the Phoenicia Playhouse will present a hilarious farce, "See How They Run," by Philip King. It will play from August 27 through Sept. 2 with curtain time at 8:40 p. m. Friday night's performance is sold out.

The action of the play takes place in an English vicarage where we find an American actor and actress, a cockney maid, who has seen too many American movies, an old maid, who touches alcohol for the first time in her life and four men in clergy suits presenting the problem of which one is an escaped prisoner. It is a show with a fast tempo, plenty of laughs and promises a hilarious evening for its audience.

First AHRC Outing Viewed as Success

"The first annual outing and picnic for the families and friends of retarded children of all ages within Ulster County was a tremendous success and no small measure of that success was due to the generosity of the Elks Lodge, 550, BPOE, of Kingston," according to Mrs. Alexander Chepeleff, general chairman.

The Elks Lodge, widely known throughout the area for their youth work, under the direction of Primo Montafia, presented the group with a variety of outdoor games and play equipment that gave an afternoon of pleasure and fun to both the youngsters and the adults. Nearly 100 participated during the afternoon. The outdoor equipment will become a part of the permanent properties of the newly-formed Ulster County Chapter of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children. A musical background for the outing was also furnished by the Freer Public Address Service and individual favors for the children through the Elks' Youth Fund.

The outing was the first of its kind to be staged by the AHRC chapter on a county-wide scale. Members and friends were present from Highland, West Hurley, Alligerville, Kingston and the nearby area. It was held Sunday afternoon at Hutton Park. Following an afternoon of organized recreation and games, a picnic supper (family style) was enjoyed by the group. Rev. A. H. Plummer, of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, of Kingston, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Chepeleff, the University Women's representative on the AHRC Board, was general chairman assisted by the Mmes. Walter Furman, Fred Craft, Phillip Kleinman, Clarence Ostrander, Benedict Todaro and Donald Weaver. Mrs. Donovan Buehring was chairman of recreation assisted by Miss Gay Gerlak, of the Kingston Public Parks recreation staff and Mr. Montafia.

Complete Nursing Training Program

Two Ulster County young ladies completed their nursing program at Union University School of Nursing, Albany Hospital and will graduate Sunday at the hospital.

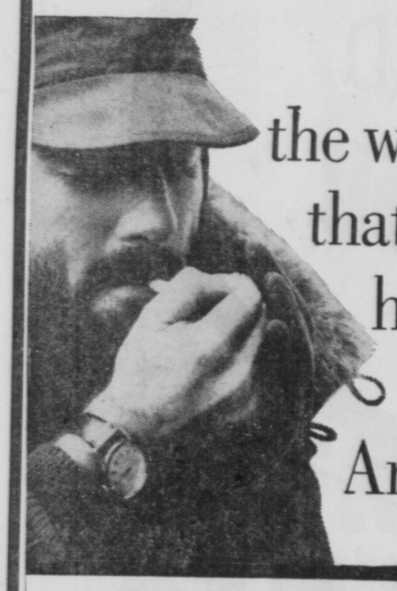

They are Barbara Ann Chmura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Chmura of 73 West Pierpont Street and Carol Ann Fiedler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Fiedler of Rosendale.

Their graduation marked the completion of their three-year nursing program at the school and prepares them to take state board examinations leading to an RN.

He was visiting the newlyweds at their home. Everything was fine, but—

Visitor—Why did you take a flat with such a tiny kitchenette, Tom, old boy?

Tom—Well, you're the first man I've told, so keep it quiet. It's so small that I can't get in there to help my wife when she's washing the dishes.

Nothing in progression can rest on the original plan.

Visitor—How did you find things down on the farm this summer? Crops good, I hope.

Junior—Well, father did fairly well on his barbecue, but he just about broke even on his gasoline and oil.

Strange Subjects for King

In 1730, Sir Alexander Cuming almost singlehandedly won for the English the friendship of the Cherokee in Tennessee. He talked the Indians into signing a treaty and then so impressed the tribesmen that they even agreed to become subjects of King George II.

So many silly things are done in business that merely not being silly is almost a formula for success.

The bartender shoved a large shot of whiskey across the bar. The stranger picked it up with one hand, held his nose with the other and closed his eyes. Then he downed it in one gulp.

Bartender (smiling)—It isn't all that bad, is it?

Stranger—Oh, no, if I see it or smell it my mouth waters and dilutes the darn stuff.

The real reason that the Romans gave up their Holiday was because of the overhead. . . . the lions ate up all of their prophets!

A motorist was brought before the judge on a speeding charge. He was requested to take the oath, "Do you solemnly swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

Reluctantly, he agreed.

Judge—Now, what have you to say for yourself?

Motorist—Well, judge, with all them limitations on me—I haven't a thing to say.

Calvin Coolidge's father was a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. Shortly before the presidential election of 1880, when Calvin was eight, he asked his father for a penny to buy a stick of his favorite candy. The elder Coolidge refused.

Father—Son, it looks as if the Democrats are going to get in this year, so it would be wise for us to save our pennies.

Several days later stanch Republican James A. Garfield was elected to the presidency, by a slim margin. The morning after the election the older Coolidge called his son into the kitchen, reached into the cooky jar where the spare coins were kept, and removed a penny.

Father—Here's the penny you asked for, son. The country is safe for four more years.

Salesman Steve often overlooked sending routine daily sales reports to the home office. The Boss, a patient man, finally blew his top and fired him by wire. Two days later an envelope arrived and in it was a whopping $150,000 in orders, the telegram, and this short note: "Dear Boss: Orders for past week are enclosed along with a telegram some dirty so-and-so had the gall to sign your name to. Kindest regards, Steve."

Jimmy, very proud of his first job and weekly salary of $6.83, purchased a war bond on the installment plan. That evening he saw in the newspaper that John D. Rockefeller had invested in bonds to the extent of $10,000,000.

Turning to his mother, Jimmie said proudly.

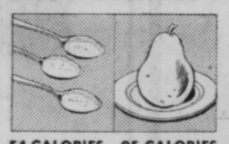

Jimmie—Well, ma, two of us Americans have done our duty, anyhow.

Compromise Money Bill Passed by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has sent to the Senate a compromise money bill totaling $1,734,011,947, most of which is for military construction in this country and overseas.

The House passed the bill by a 253-125 roll call vote yesterday. It includes 12½ million dollars for a new airport here. The Senate had refused to approve this appropriation.

The compromise version carries about 150 million dollars more than the House originally allowed and 90 million dollars less than the Senate had allowed.

A bill to authorize the military construction projects still must be acted upon by the House. This measure provides for over 20 million dollars' worth of projects in New York State.

Colonials Blank Staatsburg, 4-0, on Fred Jenny's 3-Hitter

The Woodstock Open which unfolds its annual edition Friday at the village links is a tradition-packed tournament that has produced some remarkable golf over the years.

It is the tournament of the Alex Gerlaks, Joe Zarhardts, Armand Farinas, Empry Thomases and latter day stars. It's a worthwhile show for any golf fan.

The statistical buffs will find much delight in the records of the past seven years, although nobody seems sure just what "annual" this one is. It is supposed to have produced 62s by Gerlak and Zarhardt, who later became a touring pro out of Greensboro, N. C. The 62 is a stroke lower than the amateur course mark of 63, attributed to Sig Makofski, George Hughes and Judson Phillips.

Armand Farina, the doughty Schenectady veteran who resembles Peter Lorre and often plays golf like Ben Hogan, set what is believed to be the tournament record of 98 for 27 holes in 1951. He carded nines of 33-31-34. Fred Lux, Dutchess Country Club pro, was second with 100 that year. Sig Makofski, the Mont Pleasant (Schenectady) athletic director, carded 30-33-63 to tie the amateur mark on the first 18 holes. Makofski had been the 1950 winner with a 99 on nines of 32-34-33, first year the amateurs played 27 holes.

Farina, soaring through a streak of four straight years in which he led the professionals, uncorked his spectacular run of six straight birdies on the third nine in 1952. He trailed Frank Stuhler's 34-32-66 by seven strokes at the end of 18 holes. Farina birdied the first four holes, sinking a curling 15 footer on the 4th hole and missing an eagle from six feet on the 5th.

The 1953 tournament produced a three-way tie for first place at 104 among Farina, Stuhler and Jim Farina. Armand quickly closed out the playoff with a 10-foot birdie on the first hole.

Alex Gerlak used an opening 31 as a springboard to a 104 tie with Scotty Robertson in the 1954 event, the year Carlton Traver, the Red Hook Country Club amateur ace, led the field with 103. Gerlak, the old iron master, spanked a wedge three feet from the pin on the first extra hole for a birdie-3 to beat the Oneonta veteran.

The year 1955 saw Art Stuhler of Pittsfield, Mass., project himself into the Woodstock Open picture under somewhat dramatic circumstances. A virtual unknown to Woodstock fans, he came to town a day ahead of schedule and attended the Calcutta bidding that precedes the tournament, just like it will happen tonight. Stuhler bid himself in for something like $75.00 and the next day scorched the course with 36-31-35 for a winning total of 102. He went home with $500 bulging from the back pocket of his finely tailored slacks.

Stuhler was the story again last year, when he tied with Walter Brown, the West Point professional, at 101. The playoff was one of the most bizarre in Woodstock golf history. Stuhler missed two short putts that would have closed out the match on the first and second holes to let Brown off the hook. But the next hole saw Stuhler in trouble off the tee and Brown wrapped it up with a regulation 4.

The jaunty Stuhler, a TV broadcaster in his area, will be back seeking his third straight first place finish or tie tomorrow. The mighty Armand Farina is playing great golf and Gerlak has enjoyed a banner season. The winner could come from elsewhere in the field but this is the Big Three. The man who beats all three of these fairway stalwarts can't miss the gonfalon.

• Score Card Yardage:

Most golfers take it for granted that the published yardage on golf courses is correct. But Howard R. Gill, Jr., publisher of Golf Digest, points out that often this is not true. "There should be a rigid standard of accuracy applied to the measurement of every course," Gill says. The editor notes one hole he played had a card yardage almost 100 yards greater than the actual yardage, and claims that such a situation is certainly not unique. Accurate measurements are necessary in order that a course may be properly rated as to difficulty and also so a golfer strange to a course may use the scorecard as an accurate basis for club selection. Gill suggests that every scorecard should give the name of the person or firm who measured the course and the date it was done.

Locals Shatter Knicks Streak At Five Games

New York Bullets At Stadium Saturday

The Colonials don't win often in the New York-New Jersey League, but when they do, they do it big.

Fred Jenny, who pitches out of a motion that resembles an angry windmill, tossed the game of his career last night at Dietz Stadium, a three-hit, 4-0 sparkler, against the streaking Staatsburg Knickerbockers for the Colonials' third win in 15 league contests.

The large crowd—not at the ball game but filing through the south gate of the stadium on their way home from the Ulster County Fair at Forsyth Park—saw Jenny stop the Knickerbocker streak at five straight wins. He issued only one walk and fanned five.

Jenny survived a scare in the third inning when the Knicks loaded the sacks with two out. Don Ferraro came up with a fine stop at third base to snuff out the incipent threat.

Ostrom Starts

Billy (The Kid) Ostrom a Dietz Stadium legend started for Manager Walt Bentson's Dutchess tossers but bowed after two scoreless rounds because of a sore arm. His successor, Ed Murphy, yielded the four Colonial tallies in the third and fourth innings, before Jim Lace, ace of the Staatsburg staff, finished up with four hitless innings.

Kingston assaulted Murphy for three runs with two outs in the third. The frame started with Jenny striking out, Eddie Kithcart getting picked off first base after a walk.

Bill Chase beat out an infield single, Don Mormile singled and Tom Carlino walked to load the bases. Murphy walked Mike Pagano, forcing in a run. Mann booted Jim Ferraro's grounder to second and Mormile and Carlino raced home with the second and third runs of the inning.

Ferraro Steals Home

A steal of home by Don Ferraro accounted for the Colonials' final marker in the fourth. Ferraro and Jenny had singled and moved to third and second, respectively, with two outs. With Don Mormile at bat, Murphy took too much time before going into a windup and Ferraro streaked for home, sliding in safely when Smith's pitch hit him near the plate.

The contest was unique from a batting standpoint in that all hits were singles and no player on either side got more than one.

Bouyed by their unexpected triumph, the Colonials will seek a pair in a twi-night doubleheader against the New York Bullets Saturday at Dietz Stadium. Manager Fred Davi has named Jack Houghtaling and Ernie Souza as the probable pitchers.

Now Is the Time For

Dodger Series Gives Braves Chance to Wrap Up Pennant

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If Milwaukee's Braves have the National League pennant wrapped up, as some folks say, this is the time to put a ribbon on it. They open a three-game series against Brooklyn's Dodgers tonight at Ebbets Field.

The Braves broke up the log jam in the race by winning 10 in a row and jolted two contenders in the process — plunking the St. Louis Cardinals out of the lead and crashing Cincinnati out of the race.

Now they have a chance to leave the Dodgers in the dust, while the Brooks, who no longer can afford the luxury of losing, have a chance to get, well—perhaps their last chance.

The Dodgers climbed within a percentage point of second place St. Louis yesterday by rapping Cincinnati 8-0 as Don Newcombe finally got back into the act with a five-hitter for his first victory and complete game since July 12. The big guy won his 10th on the seventh try. He's 10-10.

Giants in Breeze

The Cardinals, who had won four in a row, were chopped down 13-6 by the New York Giants.

Those were the only two games scheduled in the NL and left the Cards and Dodgers both 6½ games behind the Braves.

In the American, New York's lead was trimmed to six games as the Kansas City A's made it two in a row over the Yankees, 6-3, and Chicago's second place White Sox walloped Washington 12-6. Boston beat Cleveland 3-1 and Baltimore defeated Detroit 9-3.

Boston's Ted Williams and Yankee Mickey Mantle were hitless for the second straight day in their battle for the bat title. Williams (0-for-4) has a .385 average, Mantle (0-for-3) is .378.

Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney has tabbed Lew Burdette as his starter tonight against Sal Maglie. The Milwaukee righthander is 11-7, but hasn't beaten the Dodgers in three decisions. Maglie, 6-5, and 1-1 vs. Milwaukee, will be working with only three days' rest—as he did so effectively last season when Brooklyn stole the pennant from the Braves in the last week.

Newk Impressive

The Dodgers, 4-4 against the Braves at Ebbets and 7-9 over-all, swept three from the Redlegs, who now have lost nine in a row and have dropped 12½ games behind for a fourth-place tie with the also faded Philadelphia Phillies.

Newk, last season's MVP in the National and the majors' Pitcher of the Year at 27-7, had lost four in a row since beating Cincinnati last month. He struck out six, walked one in his first appearance in 10 days because of a sore arm. Frank Robinson had three of the Redleg hits.

The A's, taking a series from the Yankees for the first time since shifting to Kansas City in 1955, now are 3-16 against New York after chasing Johnny Kucks (7-8) with three in the first and then tagging Art Ditmar and Al Cicotte for the rest. Jack Urban won his third with Virgil Trucks' relief although the Yankees outhit the A's 8-7.

Facts of Life Descend On Contender Tonight

Title Contest Set For Seattle Stadium

By JACK HEWINS

SEATTLE (AP)—This is the day the self-made Cinderella man, Pete Rademacher, goes to the fistic ball with king Floyd Patterson to learn if his dreams are made of dust or diamonds.

Only the weatherman was predicting anything fair about this fight for the heavyweight championship of the world. A majority if not quite all of the ringwise observers have protested that the big, genial farm boy is leading himself to a slaughter.

This first heavyweight title fight between an amateur (Rademacher) and a professional (Patterson) is scheduled to take over the spotlight at 10 p. m. Pacific Standard time (2 a. m., edt), but Pete may not have to wait so long for the verdict.

Starting Time Indefinite

Promoter Jack Hurley said he might start the main show any time after 8:30 p. m. "If all the customers are seated." This, he said, would be a bow to readers of Eastern newspapers, who otherwise would have to wait until shortly before dawn to learn the outcome.

The fight will not be broadcast. No telecast. Hurley has ruled an air-wave blackout until the fight is over.

The entire Sicks' Seattle Stadium is likely to be filled to its 25,000 capacity with $400,000 worth of paying customers. Many of these disagree with the expert opinion that Rademacher's survival will be short under the impact of the champion's slashing fists.

Challenger Confident

They think Rademacher can do what never has been done before, step from the peasant world of amateurism into the throne room of fistiania.

Among the few is Rademacher himself. He says: "If I didn't think I could whip Floyd Patterson I wouldn't be here."

There will be no ringside judges and referee Tommy Loughran will score his card under the 10-point-must system. This gives 10 points to the winner of each round, less to the loser.

It was less than a month ago that Patterson, 22, cut down Hurricane Tommy Jackson in New York, the referee stopping the fight in the 10th round. Tonight the champion will meet a much larger and stronger opponent, whom Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, has called more skillful than the tamed Hurricane.

Has 25-Pound Pull

The 210-pound Rademacher, 28, goes into the ring with a weight advantage of some 25 pounds.

He has a string of 30 knockouts to his credit and has been knocked out twice in his amateur career of 79 bouts.

Rademacher dreamed up this fight himself, sold the idea to D'Amato and Hurley, obtained backers in Georgia who posted a $250,000 gurantee for Patterson.

His 60 per cent of the purse will fail by at least $10,000 to meet the guarantee, but Pete professes not to care. "I have realized my dream in just getting the chance to fight for the title," he has said.

Erdelatz Gets 5-Year Contract

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Erdelatz, who came from the pro ranks seven years ago to pull Navy out of the football doldrums, has signed a new five-year contract as head coach.

Capt. C. Elliott Loughlin, completing a three-year tour as Academy athletic director, made the announcement at a news conference as Navy prepared to open practice for what many expect to be one of its brightest seasons.

Ulsters-Jones In 2nd Playoff Game at Dietz

Ulster Electric will seek to wrap up its bracket of the semi-final round of the City Baseball League Shaughnessy playoff tonight at 7:15 against Jones Dairy at Dietz Stadium.

The Ulsters scored a 5-3 victory Tuesday and are expected to send Johnny Acker back to the hill. The Jones pitching selection has not been announced.

Joey Lopes Holds Brown to Draw

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Brown, who has proven to be anything but invincible, today finds at least three fighters scrambling for a showdown for his lightweight championship.

Having one of the strongest cases is Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., who weaved, bobbed and sprayed shots at Brown last night in Chicago Stadium to earn a 10-round draw in a nationally televised and broadcast overweight match.

Lopes, 10th ranking contender, boasted afterwards that "I will beat him if he gives me a crack at the championship."

Lopes, former AAU and Golden Gloves champion who has been a pro since 1949, was staggered by a series of sharp combinations in the seventh round but the 31-year-old Brown couldn't land the clincher.

Divergence of Votes

Judge Harold Marovitz voted for Lopes 49-45. Referee Joey White called it a 46-46 draw and Judge Frank McAdams had it even, 47-47. The Associated Press card favored Brown 47-45.

Brown outweighed his opponent 139-136½.

A rematch probably would catch on well in Brown's native New Orleans, where he won the crown from Wallace (Bud) Smith, or in San Francisco.

But two others are also hot after a championship bout. They are Cisco Andrade of Los Angeles, currently ranked No. 4 and considered by Brown as probably the best of the contenders, and No. 1 Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich.

First Class in Horse Show Set For 9 on Sunday

State police, who have cooperated in good style with the horse show for many years, have assigned Trooper Dusty Rhodes to the show. Charles (Buck) Farley and Clarence (Clancy) Snyder of the village police force will also assist.

Additional committee members named include: Jerry Jerominek, tickets and ringside parking; the Mmes. Royal Jensen, John Patterson, R. J. del Peso, Richard Goff and Lloyd Gibson.

Invitations have been extended to Dr. Gilbert Hoppenstedt to serve as veterinarian and to Charles Kinkade as farrier. Larry Swars, Bob Cousins and George Hard will be the announcers.

Winners Slam Three Homers off Van Vliet

Chappie's Taxi collected three home runs off Corky Van Vliet and got a handsome pitching performance from veteran Walt Bigler to down Bullock's, 9 to 2, in the Recreation Softball League playoffs Wednesday.

The thumping victory for the league champions squared the series at one game apiece.

Bigler, one of the oldest softball pitchers in the city in the point of years pitched, limited the Bullocks to four hits, only one after the first inning when the Kerhonkson aggregation scored twice.

The three Chappie home runs exploded from the bats of Dan Simmons, Bud O'Dea and Nick Hahn and came in the second and third innings when the winners scored seven runs.

Bud Leininger adder a single and double and Mike Provenzano doubled among Chappie's eight hits off the usually inviolate Van Vliet.

An unusual pitching note: Neither pitcher allowed a base on balls.

Longer Hours, More Twinbills Next Year in NL

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League players may have more double-headers and more days off next season with the transfer of the Giants and possibly the Dodgers to the West Coast.

Intersectional trips for all teams would be cut to three instead of the current four a season. The league president, Warren Giles, said fewer trips would extend some series to five games or more, resulting in an increase in doubleheaders.

Sandusky Driver Leads Geneva Races

GENEVA (AP) — Two races are planned for today at the National Thistle Regatta on Seneca Lake, which ends tomorrow.

The second race was postponed from yesterday after an afternoon rainstorm washed it out.

The lead was still held by Jim Hendrickson of Sandusky, Ohio.

E. Granger Wilson of Geneva, with 111 points, moved up from eighth place to fourth.

In seventh place is Norman Freeman of Binghamton with 102 points.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Some years ago, at an otherwise sane fishing camp at Cranberry Lake, New York, a gentleman of our acquaintance caught the largest trout of the season while using a mouse for bait. The fact that fish of all kinds eat mice isn't usually admitted by purist anglers, and baiting a hook with one far transcends the abilities of your reporter. We heard recently of a man who raises mice for just this purpose and presumably he has a going market for them.

There are artificial mice, however, made for the fly rod and spinning or bait casting rods, which are old favorites among bass fishermen. Whether bass eat many mice in the course of a season is hard to say, but the lures always work.

The fly rod kind is made of bucktail hair, tied heavily around the hook. The underside is trimmed flat to make it float better, and is finished with black bead eyes, whiskers, and a thin, flexible leather tail.

In Several Sizes

The spinning or bait casting type is made of plastic or wood, shaped to mouse proportions and similarly finished in detail including typical gray color. They come in several sizes, but for the fly rod we favor one tied on a No. 2/0 hook, and for spinning a ½-ounce imitation is easiest to handle.

Useing this lure in the evening up close to the shores, around trees fallen into the water and in similar spots haunted by the bass during the evening inshore feeding period. An excellent manner in which to fish this lure is to cast it up on the long grasses overhanding the edge of the stream and then flick it off to simulate the appearance of a mouse that has fallen in. You'll find this a most tempting and unusual lure.

Walleyed pike, northern pike, and all large panfish will hit a mouse lure as readily as the black bass. We think the artificial is a lot easier to use than the real thing.

Among Seminole Indians, the color yellow symbolizes death.

Corning Sox Win in 13th

By The Associated Press

The Corning Red Sox have proven themselves masters of the "slow burn."

They put on a fine demonstration last night in a New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League game at Elmira.

Corning won it 7-2 after 13 drawn-out innings of tie ball. The Sox erupted with five runs in the 14th and Elmira, by then out of gas, could score no more.

Yogi Hergenrder's triple, plus three other singles in the 14th did the trick.

Wellsville completed its seasons' encounters with Olean by beating the Oilers handily 6-0. The Braves won 12 out of 18 meetings with Olean this year.

Cal Henry's singleton homer in the fifth led the hitting for the winners.

Meanwhile, Batavia was learning to tread carefully in the cellar. Last-place Hornell beat them, 3-1, for the second night in a row.

Bill Palka's singleton home run in the ninth provided Batavia's only score.

Taxpayers to Meet Again on Aug. 22

WOODSTOCK—The Taxpayers Association of Willow, Lake Hill and Shady met Saturday night at the Methodist Church Hall in Shady with 50 people present. Among the guest speakers were Eugene DeDea, of Kingston, of the Kingston Civic Association. The by-laws of the organization were adopted.

The next meeting will be held at the Shady Methodist Church Hall, Thursday, Aug. 22, at 8 p. m.

Church Notes

The wisdom of basing thought on constructive, perfect, spiritual models will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon entitled "Mind" is the Golden Text from Romans (11:33): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!"

Selections will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

WOODSTOCK — Encouraged by the success of the Hungarian and the Austrian programs presented this season at the Maverick, both of which attracted large audiences, H. A. Schimmerling has prepared a "Three-Dimensional-Concert" for the final presentation of his Monday Harmony Hill Series. The special event will take place Monday, Aug. 26, at 8:30 p. m. in the Maverick Hall. An exhibition in conjunction with the concert will open at 8 p. m.

The unusual combination of recital, lecture and exhibition on a subject little known and never before presented in this area is arousing the interest not only of musicians but of artists in other fields as well. The influx upon the West of oriental music and its connection with art and music of such countries as Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Rumania, etc., will be illustrated with music, words and visible display.

The musical presentation will include a program of Bulgarian folk and art music (first performances of works by Bensussan, Chadjev, Dimitrov, Simeonova, Stoyanov, Tsankov and Vladigerov). The performing artists will be Boyka Konstantinova, soprano; Peter Bornstein, violinist; and H. A. Schimmerling, pianist who also will act at lecturer on the subject of Bulgarian music, "From the Mongolian Invasion to the Present Time".

Boyka Konstantinova was formerly associated with the State Operas in Sofia and Beograd. After she left her native country Bulgaria, she specialized in concert and radio singing in Italy, Germany and Belgium. Peter Bornstein, a native of England, studied in Germany where he met the dean of Bulgarian composers, Pantcho Vladigerov with whom he gave concerts and who invited him to come to Bulgaria. Mr. Bornstein accepted the invitation. He is one of the non-Bulgarian authorities on this type of music which especially with regard to its rhythmical structure is one of the most interesting and unique types of "Eastern" music.

On the evening of the concert an exhibition will be on view containing Bulgarian music, portraits of composers, pictures of opera and ballet performances. There will also be publications in the field of Bulgarian art such as the fascinating ceramics and embroideries.

Church Notes

The sermon by the pastor, The Rev. Harvey I. Todd, at the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, Sunday, Aug. 25, at the 11 a. m. service of worship will be entitled "Are We Glad We Are Christians, and How Do We Show It?"

On Friday, Aug. 30, at 6:30 p. m., the monthly fellowship congregational covered dish supper will be held in the basement. A movie showing the lay-out and the work on the new St. Lawrence River Waterway will be shown later in the evening. It is reported to be a thrilling and interesting picture.

The Dutch Village Fair held last week was the most successful thing of its kind ever conducted by the church membership under the direction of the committee of the Lydian Society. An amount of over $1,300 was realized. The Rev. Mr. Todd would like to extend his thanks to everyone who assisted, and stated that much praise is due to all those who in any way contributed to its success through personal effort, loan of equipment, atttendance or otherwise.

Explorer News

The Explorers of Woodstock Post 34, added materially to the furnishing of their meeting place provided for them by Walter Balk. Taking advantage of good material at low prices contributed to the Dutch Village Fair of the Reformed Church they purchased a heating stove and a refrigerator. This week the Explorers are planning a camping trip to the Adirondack Mountains.

Recent Work Show Will Open Saturday

The Recent Work show will open at the Woodstock Artists Association, Saturday, Aug. 24, with a cocktail party from 4 to 6 p. m. in the garden back of the Art Gallery. After the opening, admission to the gallery will be free. The exhibition will continue until Sept. 4.

Thirty-six painters and sculptors will exhibit work done within the past two years. This should prove to be an interesting and competent show with a cross section of current trends in the field of art.

With the opening of this exhibit, the miniature paintings and sculpture for the "57 Gems for 57 Collectors," which is now sold out, will go on display in the back gallery.

Chess Club to Meet Every Friday Night

At the first meeting of the Woodstock Chess Club Friday night in the club's new quarters in the National Homes office on Route 375, Sanford Greene, chess expert from the United States Chess Federation won 10 games, drew five and lost one. During the evening there were 16 boards in play.

The refreshments following the games were served by Mrs. Hendrick Wolter.

The club will meet every Friday night at the same place at 8 p. m. Everyone interested in playing chess is invited to join.

Exhibit Continues

The exhibit of paintings by the late Marion Bullard, on Plochmann Lane, will continue through the remainder of the summer season, and may be seen by appointment with Mrs. Eva Beard who has lived at Mrs. Bullard's home. These landscapes of an earlier Woodstock are being greatly admired.

Polite Method

VANCOUVER (AP)—A courteous reminder of driver license renewal is being urged by City Council. The provincial licenses are due every five years on the holder's birthday, and a "Happy Birthday" reminder is proposed.

If you have a problem and can't find the solution, why not try classified ads. They find, sell, rent, and do hundreds of other jobs that may provide the solution to your headache.

IN MAVERICK CONCERT—A program of chamber music will be presented at the Maverick Sunday Concert, Aug. 25, at 4 p. m. by Isabelle Byman, pianist; Harold Kohon, violinist, and Lorin Bernsohn, cellist. Included on the program will be the Trio for piano, violin and cello by Loeillet; Sonata, for violin and piano by De Hartman. Following the intermission the artists will play Debussy's Sonata for cello and piano and Schumann's Trio, D minor for piano, violin and cello.

Ike Kept Guessing On Aid Bill Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders kept President Eisenhower guessing today over how much of his battered foreign aid money bill may be salvaged. They postponed a showdown in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

With the House involved in maneuvering over the controversial civil rights measure, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas appeared in no hurry to have the mutual security appropriations bill come up in the Senate.
